Furor Over an Elevated Transit Station Mounting in Daly City

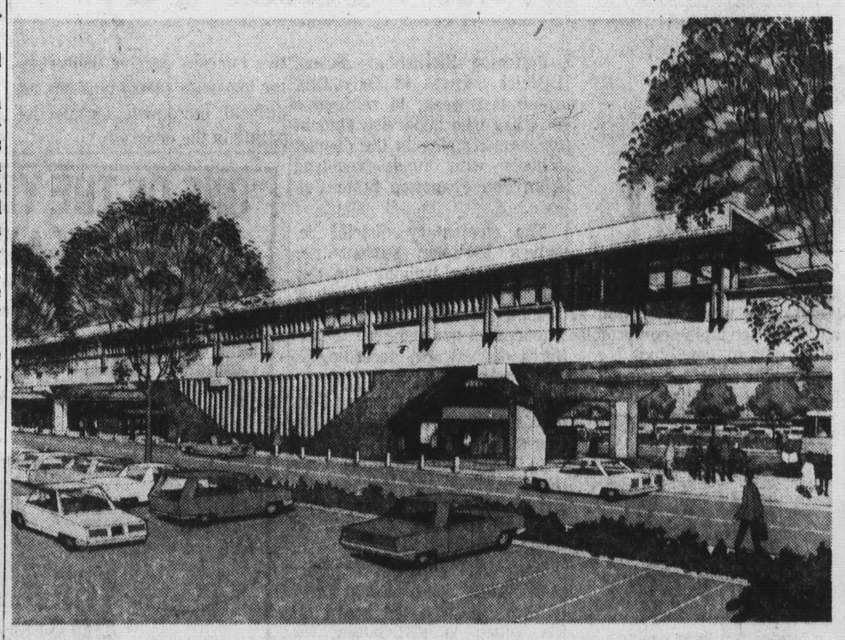
Added Strain Between BART And D.C. Noted



DALY CITY STATION?—This is an artist's drawing of what the Daly City aerial station might look like. It is similar to the two aerial stations under construction in San Leandro, with two-level parking and passenger mezzanine underneath the track area. All BART stations have substantial landscaping in their designs, a spokesman said. Escalators would be used to take people from ground level to the tracks—20 feet above.

Citizens Voicing 'Outrage'

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Daly City citizens have voiced everything from outrage to frustration over the fact that little or nothing can be done to force the Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BART) to conform to the desires of their elected officials and construct a subway station within the city.

Officials and citizens alike claim the proposed aerial station now being designed, will be an unsightly mess and extremely noisey — not unlike the old "El" systems in New York.

But BART engineers say their system is the "quietest in the world" and will not contribute any substantial amount to the noise factor already created by the two freeways in the area.

"We admit there will be some noise generated by the trains leaving and entering (accelerating and decelerating) the station area, but the effects will be minimal," according to BART Community Relations Director James Browne.

However, Daly City officials while conceding they want the station to be built in their city, have discussed using the closure of several roads in the 13-acre BART site as a "lever" in swaying the transit district into reconsidering an underground terminus for the line.

What BART designers envision is a three-track, two parking lot facility above ground which would be capable of handling a large volume of commuters. A retaining wall would be constructed along the Southern Freeway to level the "lower" parking lot.

An "upper" parking lot would be constructed on the easterly side of the station. If an underground facility were built a third lot would be located on the roof of the station.

Passenger services, including ticket machines and restrooms, would be located under the track section of the elevated station. An escalator would carry patrons to the boarding platforms 20 feet above ground level.

Arthitect G. M. McCue & Associates claim the station design will not be detrimental to the neighborhood and will, in fact, boost land values in the area.

The aerial right-of-way itself has already won two national awards for "engineering excellence" from separate organizations.

If a noise nuisance is created it will not be between the Bal-

Relations between Daly City officials and the Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BARTD) have become increasingly strained since the transit district ordered its staff to proceed with design of an aerial station for the city.

At the request of numerous citizens, Daly City has insisted on construction of an underground terminus station since the proposed facility was first discussed in 1964, but BARTD has turned a deaf ear to these requests in recent months.

In an effort to secure a subway station, Daly City officials have discussed the possibility of refusing to abandon several streets in the 13-acre BARTD site, throwing the matter into the courts for legal action.

Such a move could feasibly delay construction of the station for months.

Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett, in what he called a "move to get the very best facility for the citizens of this city," recently instructed City Attorney Albert Polonsky to look into "other legal aspects" of the relationship between BARTD and the city.

Asked if the district would argue the case in court if Daly City decided to pursue the "no road closure" policy, BARTD General Manager Bill Stokes said he would advise the directors to terminate the line at the Balboa Park station (two miles from D.C.)

Work on the line is already a year behind schedule.

Stokes said he is still seeking to continue discussions on the

C-C MEETING IS AT VAL'S

The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular meeting at Val's Restaurant in Daly City on Thursday — not International Joe's as previously announced, president Don Monson said this week.

Guest speaker for the event is Dr. Russell Kent, San Mateo County Superintendent of Schools who will discuss new teaching methods and the high cost of education. The public is invited to attend, Monson said.

Peace Party Asks Coast Youth Group

Representatives of the Peace and Freedom Movement will petition the Pacifica council for formation of a human relations commission and a youth commission in the city, a spokesman for the organization said today.

Mrs. Bernice Palmer, Pacifica Peace and Freedom Movement chairman, said she has asked for an opportunity to address the council "to ask that something be done in behalf of the young people and the minority groups, who have no voice in the community."

She will also request a review of the city's anti-loitering ordinance, a regulation which the Peace and Freedom Movement and the American Civil Liberties Union consider "of dubious constitutionality."

The ordinance was adopted last year as a means of preventing teen-agers from "cluttering up the parking lots" and causing disturbances at shopping centers in the city.

However, the ordinance was also invoked last summer during a peace campaign to prevent the distribution of peace literature, Mrs. Palmer said.

20 Apply For D.C. Licenses

Delbert C. Cunningham, 6819 Mission Street, Appliance Engineers.

Harvey E. Noennick, 5389 Mission Street, Bart Appliance service.

G. L. Salinger & Assoc., 21 Westlake Mall, Bloom's Fine Shoes.

John A. Zucca, 2195 Juniper Serra Blvd, Broadmoor Service.

William Brooks, 290 Whittier Street, Brooks Economy Light & Maint.

Lauran E. Cheda, 634 Clarinada Avenue, Lauran E. Cheda.

Clark K. Davis, 220 School Street, Clarks Barber Shop.

Richard D. Wynkoop, 1085 Edgeworth Avenue, Colma Drayage. Inc.

Charles Becasens, 8 Wakefield Avenue, Daly City Cash Register Co.

Robert West, 151-87th Street, Metropolitan Credit Exchange.

Joergen Oxnaes, 65-A Bellevue Avenue, Joergen Oxnaes.

John Miller & Frank Neumann, 210 School Street, The Scott-Miller Company.

J. Bergstrom & A. Sereni, 120 Skyline Plaza, Skyline Plaza Paint Store.

Angelo J. Ferrigno, 3255 Geneva Avence, Vin Mar Motel.

Second Westlake Attempt

A fast-thinking young Daly City policeman was credited with stopping a trio of burglars in the process of burglarizing a fashionable Westlake clothing store Tuesday morning.

Officer Tom Barner, assigned to the "graveyard" patrol around the Westlake Shopping Center, spotted two cars parked near Bartel's Fashion shop off the mall and alerted other police units before proceeding to the darkened store.

As he approached the exclusive clothing shop, three persons were seen fleeing down the dimly lit mall.

The pursuing officer lost them in the darkness and returned to the store, where he found the front door open.

Investigators said the door had been forced open with a tire iron and a "considerable amount" of clothing taken from the store's racks and stuffed into the two waiting cars.

One of the car trunks was open and stuffed with clothing, while the other vehicle's trunk lid was down and locked.

A police lock specialist was attempting to open the trunk this morning. Police would not say if the cars had been stolen or who the owners were.

An estimated $400 in cash was also taken from the store's cash register, police said.

It was the second large-scale burglary of a Westlake store in the past two weeks.

The first victim to suffer a substantial loss of clothing was the New England Shop. While there was no evidence the crimes were connected, police suspect the same gang broke into both stores.

In the New England Store burglary, entry was made by breaking through glass louvers on the front door.

Accord On Lab At Jeff

Edward Morgan, the superintendent of the Jefferson High School District, which serves Daly City and Pacifica, has modified an earlier recommendation that all district high schools be "laboratory" schools, offering special educational services.

Jim McKenzie of the Jefferson Union High School District Teachers Association (JUHSTA) disclosed that, at a meeting with Morgan late last week, there was agreement that Jefferson High would be the only laboratory school at this time.

Details of the laboratory program would be developed by staff members of the Daly City high school, McKenzie said.

Another educational agreement endered into included the concept that "a truly comprehensive high school must take into account soci-economic and achievement factors, as well as ethnic considerations," McKenzie declared.

The agreement, McKenzie ex-

Street Surface Bids

The Daly City Council was expected to award low bid for resurfacing of certain streets and appurtenant work for the coming year to the Lowrie Paving Company of South San Francisco at its regular meeting on Tuesday night.

Lowries' bid of $99,635.95 was the lowest of seven bids submitted for the project. The next two lowest bids were from the L.C. Smith Company ($99,683.25) and Eragato Paving Company ($102,167.05).

City Engineer Arthur Retscke noted all the bids were "very close" to estimates made for the project.

In other action, the council will make up:

The proposed rezoning from C-1 (Commercial), I-D (Industrial) and Unclassified districts to M Industrial (heavy), certain property in the vicinity of the Southern Pacific Railroad right-of-way and extending from Westlake Avenue to approximately 450 feet south to Citrus;

Second reading of ordinance 678 which fixes the new City Clerk's salary — from $827 to $860. A similar request to raise the salary of City Treasurer Joseph Lewkowitz (presently $400 monthly) was denied.

Lots Of Toil For Nothing

A lot of effort to get a safe from the second floor of a Tanforan Naval Base office building in San Bruno over the weekend appeared wasted when burglary suspects apparently couldn't lift the safe into their car.

San Bruno police said the accountant for the RMK-BRJ overseas construction company discovered the safe missing from the company offices on the second floor of Building C 201 on the San Bruno naval station Monday.

Mike Bell, the company official, said the safe was in place, in the center of the second floor office, when workers left for the weekend Saturday night.

Authorities noted that the suspects left their car outside the fenced enclosure at the southwest portion of the naval base, entered the compound through a seven-foot hole in the fence and went directly to the construction firm's offices.

There were no signs of a forced entry, police said.

The burglars rocked the safe back-and-forth to work loose a bolt that moored the safe to the wooden floor.

That accomplished, they wheeled the safe out on a catwalk that joins an adjoining building, dropping the safe to

Girls Abducted

D.C. Mechanic Held in Rapes

A Daly City mechanic, charged with the abduction and rape of two teen-aged girls last week, was arraigned in Northern Judicial District Court Tuesday.

A police posse led by officer Don Horsley arrested Clifford Thomas, 25, at his Miriam Street home in Daly City shortly before 7:30 a.m. Sunday — less than three hours after the two girls reported the incident to police.

Thomas was also charged with the armed robbery of the Union 76 gas station in Daly City in which he allegedly stole $6 from attendant George Page and fired a warning shot at his victim as he fled on foot in the darkness.

The girls identified Thomas as the man who abducted them off a city street, about 12:15 a.m. as they walked home, from police photographs taken during a previous arrest in the city.

Both victims said Thomas tried to molest them in an alley and next herded them down the deserted street into a parked blue and white convertible car.

He then drove his victims to the San Bruno Mountain area where he allegedly raped them and forced the girls into unnatural sexual acts, police said.

After driving the girls around town for awhile, Thomas dropped them off several blocks from where he had first encountered them, police said.

Officer Horsley, armed with a description of the suspect and car, spotted a blue and white convertible parked in front of a house at 172 Miriam Street.

He returned to police headquarters where he checked out the registration and back police records, finding a non-support warrant issued in Redwood City two years ago by Judge Roy W. Seagraves and a photo of Thomas in the files.

The girls and gas station attendant were called in and tentatively identified the suspect, police said.

At 7:20 a.m., Horsley and the posse moved in and apprehended Thomas.

SSF Schools Name New Top Aides

Thomas J. Goffrey has been named principal of South San Francisco High School to succeed the late Louis J. Bagnall, who died last month of an apparent heart attack.

Gaffney has served in the district 12 years, as principal of the Adult School, as child welfare and attendance officer and more recently as director of secondary education. He also has been head of the social science department at South San Francisco High.

Trustees also have named summer school principals, with Eldridge Pitcock, Alta Loma Junior High vice principals, Edwin Howard, Miss Barbara Healey and William Malet.

Pat Cannon, curriculum specialist, will head the secondary school summer program with Robert Warfield and Warren Hagberg as vice principals.

Bruno Meeting

February study meeting of the San Bruno Park and Recreation Commission will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the meeting room of the War Memorial Recreation Center.

S.S.F. Youth Held After Beach Fracas

A 20-year-old South San Francisco youth was arrested early on Tuesday at the Coyote Beach area in San Mateo after he had threatened two police officers with rocks.

San Mateo police reported that Ralph Costello, 3 Lane, had brandished a pair of rocks as he sat in a car parked at the beach at about 5:30 a.m.

Costello, who had reportedly been drinking during the day, had allegedly broken all of the windows of the auto and had acted strangely prior to the arrival of the officers.

Police found three juvenile girls cowering in the back seat of the car. They were reported to be unharmed.

Two other youths, Ken Millican, 19, and Vrbano Cantor, 21, both of South San Francisco, had reported the incident to Burlingame police who then informed San Mateo officers of the disturbance.

Costello was taken to city jail in San Mateo where he was booked for attempted assault on a police officer.

The three girls, Patricia Bishop, 14, Noelle Solidor, 13, and Trudy McNulty, 14, all of South San Francisco, were charged with curfew violations and released into custody of their parents.

Boy Critically Hurt by Car

A one-and-a-half-year old San Jose boy was critically injured Sunday when he ran into the path of a car on Skyline Drive in Daly City.

Charles Champagne III, of 646 Belfour Avenue, San Jose, suffered a fractured skull, abrasions and cuts when he was struck by a car driven by Robert C. Peterson, 53, of 575 Skyline Drive.

Police said Peterson was driving east on the busy roadway when the child darted out into the road from the sidewalk.

Mary's Help Hospital authorities said the boy is in satisfactory condition in the facility's Intensive Care Unit.

Relations Between D.C., BARTD Strained More

Lycett vowed to oppose construction of an aerial station "in any way possible" following BARTD's Board of Directors' instructions last month to go ahead with design of such a station.

The decision was labeled "consistent with their (BARTD's) actions since they first came to our city," by Mayor Lycett.

BARTD technically came to Daly City by an act of the State Legislature in 1957 when that body established a five county transit district composed of San Francisco, Contra Costa, Alameda, Marin and San Mateo. Susbequently, both Marin and San Mateo counties withdrew from the district.

Committees formed by the Daly City council to study future planning, along with interested citizens, have repeatedly recommended the terminus station be underground. These recommendations were based on the anticipated noise generated by trains and esthetic values of the area.

BARTD blames "poor communications" with the city for arguments over construction of an aerial station, but the fact is: both staffs have met periodically for the past four years.

And while the city has not altered its stand on wanting a subway station, BARTD changed its mind in 1967 after considering an underground facility for at least four years.

BARTD's community relations officer James Browne said the district's decision to cut back on overall expenses last year, and shifting maintenance operations to Hayward, dictated the change in the Daly City station—from subway to aerial.

Before the District began suffering its present financial pains (projected $154 million deficit) Daly City had been considered for an underground station with above ground parking for 950 cars, plus underground facilities for train parking and limited maintenance.

In 1966 the underground station was discarded in the face of mounting costs, and maintenance operations, along with terminus car parking, was switched to Hayward in the East Bay.

With the removal of the yards the costs of a subway system in Daly City was deemed not justified by the BARTD's directors.

Since that time officials of both BARTD and Daly City have "locked horns" in an attempt to stand by their respective views on station design.

BARTD is perfectly willing, according to Browne, to construct a subway station — if the city defrays the $3 million added costs of such a facility.

They have also expressed their willingness to share, to some extent, in the cost of relocating streets and redirecting traffic in the vicinity of the station.

"This is something we have felt is necessary to do in other areas where traffic has been affected as a result of station construction," Browne said.

The East Bay city of Berkeley likewise opposed construction of an aerial station and in November 1966 passed a supplemental bond issue for $20.5 million for a two mile stretch of track and underground station.

Of the 33 regional stations in BARTD, 20 are aerial (four in mid-freeway), all are in the East Bay, with the exception of the proposed Daly City station.

Estimated costs of the Daly City aerial station are $3.93, while the subway station would cost some $6.82 million and an alternative "cut" station $4.57 million.

"Money is the central issue in this matter," Browne points out. "There are many things we would like to do, however, finances dictate what can, and cannot, be done."

'El' Viewed As 'Outrage'

boa Park and Daly City stations. Engineers claim a southern extension down the Peninsula "might possibly" raise the noise level.

Once again, BART does not consider noise in this case to be a nuisance factor.

Opponents of the system coming into Daly City have cited the removal of some 160 single-family homes from the city-county tax rolls.

BART officials point out the district has already paid $11,200 for the first six months of this year to the county.

Of this amount some $3,000 finds its way into city coffers.

In addition, Browne feels the station will be "good for growth" of the city.

"Our records indicate rapid transit has caused new business to flourish around stations," Browne said, using Toronto as the latest example.

He said Toronto experienced a $10 billion business and land explosion as a direct result of their transit venture.

(Other transit experts, notably in Ohio and Boston, take the opposite view that rapid transit "runs down" rather than bolsters surrounding businesses.)

Safe Work For Nothing

the ground below the overhead ramp.

Though the means by which the safe was taken to the fence, near which the suspects had parked their car, is unknown, there were signs that at that point in the wheel-away a cart was used.

Police theorize that when the suspects were unable to lift the safe into their car, they decided to open it on the spot.

Efforts to pry the safe open failed.

The burglars evidently gave up, leaving behind not only the unopened safe, but their tools, as well.

Monday afternoon, a naval base public works department helper, Samuel Culbert, found the safe when he went to repair the fence.

Culbert, police said, followed tracks leading into a clump of bushes and found the safe.

'Oriental' Fires Shot In Holdup

A "tiny gunman" held up the Greyhound Bus Depot at 820 El Camino Real in San Bruno on Monday and fled with more than $100 after firing a warning shot at his victim.

Investigating officer Joseph Kosiba said the man, described as a five foot tall Oriental, approximately 22 years old, and wearing a black leather jacket and motorcycle goggles, walked into the depot shortly before 10:30 a.m., pulled out a 38 caliber revolver and ordered proprietor John Heiden to "give me all your bills."

The gunman next told Reiden to lie on the floor and then fired a shot into the counter above the victim's head before running out the door and north on El Camino Real.

$500 Theft In South S.F.

More than $1,200 worth of personal property was stolen from two tenants at the Camino East Apartments complex on Antoinette Lane in South San Francisco in burglaries Monday, police said.

Officers household items, stereo equipment, luggage and other items valued at about $500 were taken from the apartment of John M. Becquart between noon and 6 p.m.

Another apartment in the building, occupied by Charles E. Carroll, was also broken into and ransacked, and more than $700 in personal property was taken.

FLO DICKOW of the Xi Lamba Phi chapter of Beta Sigma Chi of Pacifica was chosen Queen in the annual Valentine Ball held at the South San Francisco Elks' Club Saturday night. plained, urges that "criteria be established to refine the proposed ethnic classifications to take into account soci-economic (and) achievement factors."

The acquisition of reading specialists was singled out for particular attention, the JUHSTA spokesman said, "for use in training programs," along with giving priority to additional psychological services.

An additional agreement was, according to McKenzie:

"That educational improvements and innovations be given first priority as a necessary condition of any boundary change."

McKenzie pointed out that, at the Negotiating Council meeting, Morgan's boundary recommendations were recognized as a "commendable compromise under difficult conditions."

The agreements were signed by Morgan and the district Negotiating Council chairman Alex F. Fraser.

Seniors Win S.S.F. Awards

Four seniors at South San Francisco High School have been selected to represent their school in the 1968 Bank of America Achievement Awards program, Principal Thomas J. Gaffney announced today.

Chosen by faculty members, the top winners will receive trophies and have the opportunity to compete for cash awards ranging up to $1,000.

The trophy winners and the study field in which they were honored are:

Jeffrey Gallup, science and mathematics; Mark Heckman, fine arts; Linda Magnetti, liberal arts; Kathy Keane, vocational arts.

Eleven other students were cited for superior performance in specific fields of study and will receive certificates of merit. They are:

Mary Frediani, mathematics-Michael Hennog, laboratory science; Richard Poser, English-Margaret Cesano, social studies; Barbara Leitner, foreign languages; Harriet Bronstein, drama; Joseph Crotty, music; Mary Baskin, art; Dolores Mergogey, home economics; Kathy Althoff, business and Keith Common, trades and industrial.

Cyclist Hurt In San Bruno

Treated at the Rollingwood Medical Center for his injuries was Thomas Paul Leek of 131 Camelia Court.

San Bruno police said the youngster apparently ran into the left rear of a car driven by Joan Harriet Wade, 30, of 2701 Maywood Drive, San Bruno.

Adoption of a resolution accepting completion of the Southgate-Sullivan Avenue extension.

Second reading of Ordinance 679, amending the city's fire zones, a matter that has been under discussion for the past several months.

The council instructed Attorney Albert Polonsky last week to prepare a document to be presented to James V. Grealish for his work on the Personnel Board.

Grealish had asked that he not be reappointed to the Board when his term expired last week. Mayor Lycett accepted the request "with deep regret" and noted Grealish had done an "outstanding job for the city" while on the board.

The use permit request of Roberts-Pacific Company for a medical-dental building on Southgate Avenue was shelved at a study session of the Daly City Council last week and was not expected to be taken up during the council's regular meeting tonight pending further study of the matter.

Planning commissioners had recommended the permit be granted with several conditions, including completion of subdivision improvements prior to opening the building and the entire site be landscaped, however councilmen voted unanimously to look into the request after being informed another similar structure was planned in the same general area.

"Perhaps if we go along with this smaller building (5,000 square feet) we may lose the bigger facility," Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett commented in asking for the delay.

Another use permit request the council has continued for the past month is from the Quality Distributing Company of Sacramento who want to operate a food processing and distribution center on Station Avenue.

Jeff Elementary Votes Tutor Pay

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees in Daly City voted last week, to reimburse teachers who supervise student teachers training in the district schools with funds received from San Francisco State College.

The elementary district receives $25 per student per semester for training the student teachers, and district teachers responsible for their supervision are required to perform extra work, according to the trustees.

Board Chairman Thomas Noonan said many districts pass on the money received for training the students to the supervising teacher, "and the teachers deserve some reimbursement for the extra effort required of them."

Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association vice president Denis O'Leary praised the board for its action in distributing the funds to teachers.

In other business at the Jeff meeting, trustees heard a report from Asst. Supt. Dr. Vinton Stratton on a proposed "administrative intern" program in the district.

Under the program, selected district teachers will receive training and experience in the administrative field, while continuing their duties as fulltime teachers.

Administrators have recommended that the "administrative interns" receive their regular teacher's salary plus one additional increment for participating in the program.

Kiddies Theatre Slated on Coast

The Park, Beach and Recreation Department is starting its Children's Theater program this week with a workshop on puppets. The workshop will meet on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:30 to 5 p.m. at Oddstad Center.

The workshop will include work on rod, shadow and hand puppets, stages and scenery and actual performances. Children's Theater Director Inello Lambert plans performances during Easter vacation at all the city playgrounds. Registration fee of $2 for the workshop will be taken at any of the meetings.

The department also is registering for its next session of guitar lessons, beauty building, and gymnastics.

The guitar lessons are held at Fairmont Center, Mondays, 8 p.m.; at Oddstad Center, 6:30 for teen beginners; 7:30 for adult beginners; 8:30 for adult intermediate.

Oddstad classes are held on Wednesday evenings. Registration of $6 for the six-week program, beginning the week of March 4 is now being taken.

A fourth class in beauty buildnig is starting on Mondays at Oddstad Center from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. The class will start March 4 and will be the last opportunity for those interested in the program to take part until September.

Registration for the six-week course is $5 and is now being taken.

Babysitting is available at 25 cents per child per class meeting.

A Junior and Senior Life Saving Class will be conducted by the department and the Coastside Region, Golden Gate Chapter of the American Red Cross.

This will be the only life saving clas held on the Coast until July. The seven-week course will be held on Monday evenings at Terra Nova High School from 7 until 10 p.m., beginning February 19.

Horse Barns Fired Again By Arsonists

Two horse barns were attacked by arsonists in Pacifica Saturday night, one for the second time within a month, police and fire officials reported.

A fire at the Vallemar Stables barn was spotted at 2 a.m. Sunday by a patroling policeman, Officer R. J. Conollo, and fire department personnel found an empty gasoline container at the scene.

The barn, owned by Robert L. Popper, was slightly damaged three weeks ago in another fire which was apparently set by arsonists.

Firemen said no estimate of damage in the Sunday morning blaze has been obtained, but the one-story building, along with a cement mixer, saddles and other equipment, was totally destroyed.

There were no horses in the barn at the time of the fire, police said.

Another barn at Mori's Point was also attacked by arsonists sometime Saturday night, but the building failed to burn because of dampness.

Police said someone set fire to a wall of the barn, owned by Thomas Draper, in three separate locations.

Gasoline was apparently used in setting the Mori's Point fire also, police said.

There were two horses in the Nori's Point barn. Damage to the structure was described as minor.

Liquor Store Is Held Up

An armed robber held up a South San Francisco liquor store Saturday night, and escaped with an undetermined amount of cash, police reported.

Officers said the Winston Liquor and Delicatessen store, at 123 Hickey Boulevard, was held up about 10:30 p.m.

A man entered the store while there were no customers present, and threatened the clerk with a chrome-plated revolver, police said.

He fled on foot after emptying the cash register.

The suspect was described as a male in his middle twenties, about six feet tall, and weighing approximately 180 pounds.

He was wearing a plaid shirt and dark trousers.

'Getting to Know You' Is St. Vernonica Theme

"Getting to Know You" is the theme of the St. Veronica's Mothers' Guild tea on Saturday in the school cafetorium.

Serving tea from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. will be Mesdames Richard Welch, James Petty, Robert Flickinger, Paul Pettigrew, Dennis Allen, and Vince Lombardi, Jr.

Chairman Mrs. Louis Bianchi explains the purpose of the tea is to introduce the Sisters, who are members of the Congregation of the Holy Infant Jesus, and the three lay teachers who are presently at St. Veronica's School. Mother Benignus is the superior of the convent and Sister Louise is the school principal.

On Sunday the St. Veronica's Women's Club will have their annual Communion Mass and breakfast. Following the 9 o'clock Mass breakfast will be prepared and served in the cafetorium by the St. Veronica's Teen Club sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Andreini.

Speaker for the event will be Mrs. Jane Branch whose topic is "God's Will — None Should Perish." She will explain the Christian women's role in modern living. Mrs. Branch is the wife of Rev. Branch, pastor of St. John's Baptist Church in East Palo Alto. She is president of the Bay Area Baptists and is also involved in the Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish Women's Group.

Reservations are being taken by chairman Mrs. Robert Robinson and the Mesdames Samuel Roybal and Robert Flickinger.

A Real Estate Planning Course

A two hour class on Estate Planning will be given at Westmoor High School in Daly City from 3 to 5 p.m. beginning today for six weeks as a part of the adult education program of the Jefferson UHSD.

The course, open to the public, will be of special value to professional people and housewives who wish to know more about tax planning and conserving the estate through wills, trusts, life insurance, pensions and social security.

The course will be offered also at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The instructor will be Roger H. Wood, CLU, a member of the San Francisco Estate Planning Council, and a Past President of the Leading Life Insurance Producers. He studied law at USF and Stanford and has been in this field for the past 15 years.

The registration fee of one dollar is the only cost for the course.

The class will be in room 7.

Seven Men Held In Marijuana Net

The roundup of seven young men indicated recently for narcotics violations was completed Thursday with the arrest of Randall J. Stuart, 19-year-old student of 2540 Wentworth Drive, San Bruno. He was charged with one count of sale of marijuana.

Stuart and his co-defendants were arraigned Friday before Superior Judge Melvin E. Cohn in Redwood City. Some appeared with attorneys. Judge Cohn appointed defense counsel for others who said they could not afford to retain their own.

Most of the defendants were due back in court for further arraignment.

Indictments have handed down last week after a long investigation by detectives of the San Bruno, Pacifica and South San Francisco Police departments, the sheriff's office and the State Narcotics Bureau. The investigation centered around a San Bruno pizza parlor.

Other defendants are David Joseph Fournier, 20, of 2660 Crestmoor Drive, San Bruno; Robert James Lindsey, 20, of 2225 Hamilton Avenue, San Bruno; Jerald Patrick Grainger, 21, of 1090 Dublin Drive, South San Francisco; Larry Thomas Brown, 19, of 3850 Colby Way San Bruno; William R. Trautz, 18, of 227 Dent Road, Pacifica, and Neil T. Sparks, 18, of 89 Montecito Road, Pacifica.

S.S.F. Speed Limit Is Extended

The 45 miles per hour speed limit along Junipero Serra Boulevard in South San Francisco in the vicinity of Clay Avenue has been extended to cover the section from 600 feet north of Sneath Lane to 1,000 feet south of Clay Avenue where it will adjoin a 35 miles per hour zone.

An engineering and traffic investigation was made of this section of Junipero Serra Boulevard by the Division of Highways at the request of the City of South San Francisco and both the city and the Highway Patrol concurred in the recommendation for reducing the speed limit from the existing 55 miles per hour to 45 miles per hour. The new speed limit will become effective with the posting of signs, probably within a few weeks.

Paranoid Postman Is Hero

By DON GRIERSON

Two short Murray Schisgal plays, "The Tiger" and "The Typists," are now being presented Sunday evenings at The Playhouse, providing, along with "Luv" on Friday nights, a "Schisgal festival" each weekend.

Allen and Jo Robertson constitute the cast of both the one-act plays, and Robertson also directs.

"The Tiger," though the less powerful of the two productions, was presented first last Sunday, and afforded the talented Robertson and opportunity to warm to the more successful "Typists."

In "The Tiger," a paranoid postman abducts an attractive young matron from the suburbs and takes her to his lair, a basement apartment.

There, to the "tiger's" chargrin, the prey discovers some powerful primeval urges of her own, and soon seizes the initiative.

The play ends on a widly absurd note, with the woman promising to return to the apartment each Thursday to help her abductor with his French, and, presumeably, to be raped.

"The Typists" is a justly hailed short theatrical masterpiece.

A rather difficult play it requires that the performers visibly grow old before the audiences' eyes, a bit of theatrical virtuosity accomplished by the Robertsons.

The play covers the full spectrum of human aspirations and frustrations within a span of about 40 minutes.

Two more or less normal lower middle class office workers share their thoughts, desires and ambitions in the beginning. Then, as their lives "progress," they share their failures and frustrations.

The point to the play, as the female character states it, is that "we all have our pretensions," and that's about all we do have.

Reminiscent of James T. Farrell's "Studs Lonigan," the play is fraught with heavy realism. However, there are moments of high comedy.

Oceana Trombonist Is Selected to Play

Trombonist Rex Holmgren from Oceana High School has been accepted to play in the All-California High School Symphony. The Symphony, which accepts only the finest players from all over the state of California, is sponsored by the University of California at Santa Barbara. The group will present its annual concert in Santa Barbara on February 25.

Rex, who will be playing first trombone, is a senior at Oceana. He is originally from Omaha, Neb., and has had a great deal of playing experience in bands, orchestra, and jazz groups. He is first chair in the Jefferson Union High Schoool District Honor Band, as well as in the Oceana Band and Stage Band.

Aside from his music activities at Oceana, Rex is active in the Physics department, and is a member of the swimming team.

Since only a few trombones are used in orchestra, Oceana is especially honored to have one of its students in that section. The All-California Symphony performs pieces of professional calibre, and is condcuted by Dr. Stanley Chappell, noted conductor from the University of Washington.

Rex will be heard as the featured soloist with the Oceana Band on their Sisth Annual Spring Concert, playing the Rimsky-Korsakov "Concerto for Trombone and Band."

Dinner For S.S.F. Aides

There will be a testimonial dinner for two retiring South San Francisco city employes February 16 at Lyal's Restaurant, officials said this week.

Guests of honor at the retirement dinner will be Chief Building Inspector Guido Rozzi, who retires this month, and Park Foreman Remo Raffaelli, who retired last July.

Rozzi has been with the city since 1946, and was instrumental in formulating the present building codes and zoning ordinances.

Tickets to the retirement dinner, which will begin at 8 p.m., are available at $6 each from Mrs. June Delander at City Hall.

S.S.F. ROTARY'S NEW OFFICERS

Ray Winther heads the list of new officers of the South San Francisco Rotary Club.

Also serving are Dr. Paul Nielsen, vice president; Vic Robinson, secretary; and Nate De Giobbi, treasurer. Directors are Fred Rapp, Herbert Kelley, Ivan Finley, William Meehan and Kenneth Adam, direct past president.

Barrick To Seek Office

Pacifica contractor Thomas Barrick has taken out papers to file for the April 9 council election in Pacifica, increasing the number of announced candidates to six, city officials said today.

Coast Project Ready

Plans are almost completed on the Linda Mar interchange for the proposed new Route 1 Freeway through Pacifica, Division of Highways District Engineer Alan S. Hart said Thursday, and construction will begin on the project "as soon as funds are available and rights-of-way are purchased."

Speaking at Thursday's meeting of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce, Hart said he could give "no definite time schedule" for construction of either the new Cabrillo Freeway or the 186 Route between Pacifica and San Bruno.

"The two important factors in both cases are availability of funds and the purchase of rights-of-way," he said.

Hart also said there are no funds available at this time for replacement of the Devil's Slide route between Pacifica and Half Moon Bay.

"We want to build at least two lanes through the hills back from Devil's Slide as soon as possible," he said. "I am deathly afraid the Slide will come down one night, and we will never be able to get it open again."

"I can assure you that all of these approved projects will eventually be completed," Hart said. "It is just a question of money. With enough money, we can build anything."

D.C. School Open House

An open house and a dedication ceremony heralding the opening of the new Woodrow Wilson Elementary School in Daly City will be held February 16, district administrators announced this week.

The public is invited to attend the ceremonies, which begin at 8 p.m.

March 9, the Jefferson Elementary School District will stage its annual "curriculum fair" at Colma School.

Teachers from throughout the school district will present demonstrations at the fair, and the Colma Intermediate School Band and the Benjamin Franklin Glee Club will perform.

Tour of Bay Model Taken

Accompanied by Abe Evenich, 57 students were taken through the Bay Model by a tour guide.

The purpose of the trip was to allow students to become familiar with proposed reclamation projects, to study the topography of the ocean and bay floor and to see other projects and models. A movie was also seen on various other projects being developed in the United States.

Along with educational aspects of the field trip, the students saw parts of Sausalito and Golden Gate Park.

New Veterans Cemetery In Area Wanted

Chairman James V. Fitzgerald of the County Board of Supervisors asked the county's 18 mayors today to join with him in working to get a new veterans' cemetery in San Mateo County.

In a newsletter to be mailed to the cities soon Fitzgerald asks for suggestions on possible sites.

"The cities and the county," Fitzgerald told The Post, "should select a site we can all agree on, then turn it over to Congressman Paul McCloskey to follow through on."

The supervisor said he has no particular spot in mind personally but feels that it should be a large parcel near an existing or future freeway so that it would be easily accessible.

"It would probably have to be in the unincorporated area some place," Fitzgerald said, "because I doubt that any of the cities would have a large enough site that is uncommitted."

Fitzgerald pointed out that no more unreserved space remains in Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

"The need for a new cemetery is immediate," he commented. "For that reason I am asking the mayors for an early response."

The board chairman said that, because of ever-increasing land values, the sooner the site is bought, the more money will be saved. He suggested that the site should be out of the built up area so that there would be a minimum of public protest.

He did not rule out the possibility that officials in San Mateo County could get together with their counterparts in Santa Clara County to discuss a mutual site.

Coin Theft In South S.F.

A metal box containing over $500 in coins and savings bonds was taken from the Tipperary Avenue residence of Phyllis Meyer in South San Francisco while occupants were away on vacation, police said.

Officers said the house was broken into between January 24 and February 7.

Entrance to the house was gained through an unlocked window.

In another burglary this week, $170 worth of light fixtures and appliances was stolen from two houses under construction on Dianne Court.

Oceana Official To Be Speaker

Dr. Robert Watt, principal of Oceana High School, will outline modular scheduling plans at Oceana at the Oceana P-TA meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. in the high school cafetorium. To quote Dr. Watt.

"In planning for change, man has two choices: Ride the tide, assuming change is inevitable; plan for change, assuming desirable change is not inevitable," Dr. Watt declared.

A question and answer period will follow.

Two Brunans Enter Race

With the deadline for filing a week away, only two San Bruno residents have returned candidacy papers for two City Council positions to the City Clerk's office.

However, three others have taken out papers and are expected to file them before the February 15 cutoff date for the April 9 election.

Attorney George R. Corey and teacher Charles Hanley have filed for City Council.

Postal employe Richard Griffith, airlines employe James Hensel, Jr. and insurance man Lester Kelting have taken out candidacy papers, but have yet to file for the council race.

City Treasurer Martin Krumm has filed for re-election He will have at least one opponent, with food store owner Charles Heff also filing for the post.

THE JEFFERSON SCENE

Student of Month Named

By WENDY WOOLERY

This month's Student of the Month at Jefferson is petite Kathy Gilmore.

In her Freshman year, Kathy was a participant in the freshman rally and the frosh dance, and also was an active member in the Rally and Drama Clubs.

In her Sophomore year, Kathy joined the Art Club and worked on the Spring Festival. Her high point for the year was her election as Junior Varsity yell leader.

In her Junior year, she worked on the Annual and kept the spirit up for the J.V. teams.

For Kathy, the Junior Prom was a fitting ending for her Junior Year. Looking back on the first semester of her Senior Year, Kathy is "thrilled" at the chance to lead the cheers for the Varsity teams.

Unique in that he is the only native-born Jordanian at Jeff, is Pete Nasrah, a junior, who came to this country with his father.

Part of the reason for this was to escape the state-of-war atmosphere which has pervaded the Middle East since June.

It is interesting to note that his grandfather lived in Texas for 40 years; he is now back in Jordan. Pete, who misses Jordan, would like to continue his schooling on into college.

He speaks of Jordan as a progressive nation.

The Jefferson and P.T.A. organizations presented a "Career Night" program at Jefferson January 16 in the school cafeteria, to give students a wide range to explore.

A lot of work was put into the planning of this program which was a failure to the P.T.A. Most of the students who showed up were from Westmoor.

Seven students—Phil Yee, Dorothy Redmond, Wendy Woolery, James Burns, James Williams, Verdell Lovings, and Karl Johnson, with Miss Jansen and Rudi Tretten—went to Fremont to talk with and answer questions for students from John F. Kennedy High School.

The basic topic was "How does one become friends with someone of a different race?"

John F. Kennedy is a predominately Caucasian school, and students who don't communicate with, know, or understand people of different races will be short-changed throughout their lives. it was declared.

Brian Stanley and Jim Lemke, a Junior and Sophomore, respectively, have been named the 1967 Chess Champions in Daly City. Both boys were presented elegant trophies for the best achievements in this club. Brian earned his trophy for playing 51 games in the club. He also improved in rating 111 points. Jim received his trophy for improving his rating 143 points. Jim beat Brian in the last game of the season to take the trophy for the most improved player in the club.

This week's Athlete of the Week is Jerry Calios, a guard on the Varsity basketball team. He stands 5''8' tall and weighs 130 pounds.

Jerry was chosen on the All-N.P.L. Tournament Team for his play, and led Jeff's scoring during the recent tournament with 28 points

Stronger State Role Suggested

By FRANK LAPIERRE
(Fourth of Series)

Creation of a regional transportation agency, with the State playing a stronger role in planning and programming of various facilities, has been suggested by Bay Area Transportation Study Commission director Richard M. Zettel.

In a year-end memorandum to BATS directors Zettel pointed out that the commission has the responsibility of coming up with ways and means of implementing a master transportation plan for the Bay Area.

He noted there were several problems confronting the commission which may tend to frustrate this implementation, regardless of what final plan is decided upon before that body is dissolved next year.

As an example of these problems, Zettel noted that the West Bay Area Rapid Transit District covers only San Mateo County and must decide on a mass transit plan later this year — a plan that will be compatible with both San Francisco (BARTD) and Santa Clara counties.

"Mr. (John) Lilly (WBRTA general manager) has informed the Governor's Task Force on Transportation that the entire Peninsula Transit problem and any solution to it must treat the Peninsula as a whole.

"For one thing, preliminary findings indicate that commutting between San Mateo County and Santa Clara ... will increase more rapidly than commuting into San Francisco from San Mateo County," Zettel explained.

Zettel further noted that WBRTA is studying several transit alternatives for the county, including extension of BARTD and upgrading of the Southern Pacific Railroad commuter service on the Peninsula using Federal or State subsidies.

SP has continually rejected such subsidy offers and maintains it is providing aeequate service on its line.

The fact that the West Bay authority is limited to only one county, however, may be partial explanation for SP's continual refusal to consider public subsidies for service improvements or for sharing its right-of-way with a BARTD-type system.

Even though certain railroads in eastern cities have undertaken demonstration projects using Federal funds, SP remains skeptical about involving itself with any "outside" controls.

Greyhound Buslines have likewise lost interest in commuter operations along the Peninsula corridor, Zettel said. He offered as further evidence of Greyhound's distaste for the commuter business the fact that the company recently issued a statement to the effect that they have been operating such services in the county "at a substantial loss for several years."

A Greyhound spokesman pointed out that "it has been generally accepted by knowledgeable authorities throughout the country that commuter transportation systems cannot operate efficiently on a self-sustained basis."

The inevitable course of action regarding mass transportation, in view of these facts, is a publicly owned and operated network in the Bay Area, the spokesman said.

Some optimists had hoped the creation of BARTD would be the first step toward a single regional transit agency servicing the entire Bay Area.

The initial six-county district envisaged by the Rapid Transit Commission emerged from the Legislature as a five county district and was further whittled down to a three county system with the withdrawal of Marin and San Mateo.

If viable regional transportation planning is to take place and the resulting plans are to be succesfully implemented, then problems of coordination of these plans must be resolved soon, Zettel said.

"Particular situations can be worked out through negotiations among agencies involved or by ad hoc arrangements," Zettel explains. "When other means fail, or are too time-consuming the State Legislature itself may be called upon to resolve the matter."

Area-wide planning is also necessary in most cases where Federal aid is desired, such as the Highway Act of 1962 which calls for a continuing comprehensive transportation planning process to be carried out cooperatively between State and local governments as a condition of freeway financial aid.

If a bus rapid transit system is decided upon for the county — or Santa Clara County — this freeway aid is an important matter that must be considered.

Officials are hoping federal aid will soon be stretched to include other means of mass transportation, such as a fixed rail system or buses.

BATS must decide during its existence whether to (1) rely on voluntary coordination of existing agencies through negotiations or ad hoc arrangements (bolstered by the finaancial persuasive planning requirements of the Federal government as administered by ABAG or a successor agency), or (2) recommend to the State Legislature a whole new structure to effect implementation of the region's ransportation plan.

Restructuring is not necessarily a panacea for the ills afflicting the development of such a system, Zettel concedes.

He said "with a few notable exceptions the Bay Area has done rather well in securing the transportation facilities it needs."

Zettel failed to name the "few notable exceptions."

Some of the possibilities for new structuring include the re-definition of the State's transportation role.

"One possibility would be a strengthened and broadened State transportation agency which might be redistricted to deal with regional ransportation problems. Presumably the State would play a strong role in planning and programming trasnportation facilities in cooperation with regional and local agencies," Zettel said.

But would the State's role in this venture stop at planning, or would it someday include actual operation of a Bay-wide system?

This question, above all, has been the basis for heated discussion among those closely associated with the problem of transportation. What most of these persons would like to see is the state helping out financially on systems that have been planned by local agencies such as WBRTA.

They claim establishment of such a master agency would open a "Pandora's Box," releasing a shower of problems including enofrecement powers, vetoing decisions, appointments and how to deal with subregional problems.

If the agency is to work towards its transportation goals it must have full cooperation from both future and existing agencies, many feel.

Regardless of the mountain of problems that must be solved before such a master agency can be established there is a growing number of persons who fel this is the only answer if a first-class mass transit system is to be guilt without placing a tremendous financial burden on the people.

"Meanwhile, we seem to be muddling our way along fairly well,' 'Zettel commented recently.

Senior Citizens View City Hall In Daly City

The Daly City Senior Citizens, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, toured the new City Hall.

Hosting the group were Councilmen Frank Pacelli and Tony Giammona, City Clerk Anna Ohlendorf, City Treasurer Joe Lewkowitz, Recreation Commissioner Ann Eason, and Julius Castelan, President of the Senior Citizens of Daly City.

An interesting highlight for the group of 50 was the new police and jail facilities.

East Coast Home For Newlyweds

The twenty-seventh wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Albright was the occasion for the marriage of their daughter, Dolores Golden Albright, to Craig Churchill Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Pierce of South San Francisco.

The couple receited vows at the First Congregational Church of San Mateo and received felicitations there. They honeymooned en routeto Charleston, S.C. where Craig is stationed with the armed services.

THE CRAIG PIERCES (Lolita Albright)

Lolita, as the bride is known, was given in marriage by her father, who is in business in western Venezuela. She wore a white Chantilly lace fitted along princess lines in the front and falling from the shoulders in the back to a full chapel train. She added an amethyst necklace worn by her mother on her wedding day and gold earrings which had belonged to Craig's great-great-grandmother.

Judith Schaefer of Hawaii, the maid of honor, set the style of dress for the secondary attendants with her white chiffon gown. Bridesmaids were Lynn Ichimaru of San Mateo, Cylia Walker of Burlingame, Patricia Osborn of Belmont, and Susan Baird of Hillsborough.

Sherman Hahs of South San Francisco stood with Craig as best man. Guests were seated by Mark Pierce, brother of the benedict; George Albright Jr., brother of the bride; Patricio Valenzuela of Santiago, Chile, and Samuel Cohen of Maracaibo, Venezuela.

The new matron was educated in Codrington, Barbadoes, BWI, and at San Mateo High School and College. Craig attended El Camino High School and CSM. He is also the brother of Leslie and Dana Pierce.

Women Voters League Slate Plans Talks

The Provisional League of Women Voters of North San Mateo County will hold unit meetings on February 20 and 21 to discuss local program planning for the coming year.

The South San Francisco-San Bruno unit will meet at 9:30 a.m., February 20, at the home of Mrs. Syd Posner, 2780 Merion Drive, San Bruno.

The Pacifica unit will meet at 10 a.m. February 21st at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church on Seville Drive, and the Daly City unit will meet at 7:45 p.m. on February 21 at the home of Mrs. Raymond Milton, 98 Westmoor Avenue, Daly City.

All meetings are open to the public.

One of the items being studied by the League is state finance.

Mrs. Donald Heiman is conducting finance study workshops. Anyone interested in participating may contact Mrs. Heiman.

SSF Boys' Club Keeps Growth Pace

A record high $22.7 million was spent on construction and development by the Boys' Clubs across the nation during 1967, Tom Sauer, executive director of the South San Francisco Boys' Club, has announced.

In announcing the 1967 figures, he pointed out that the local Club had kept pace with the national growth rate of Boys' Clubs of America by virtue of its $10,000 locker room.

John M. Gleason, national director of Boys' Clubs of America, who notified the club of the national statistics, added that the Boys' Club development in South San Francisco, "is a fine example of what a community can do to build juvenile decency and good citizenship."

Nationally, Gleason said, "some 124 Boys' Club projects were undertaken during 1967. Some 37 new buildings were completed while another 87 projects were started and in various stages of development. More than 750 locally financed Boys' Clubs now serve more than 750,000 deserving youngsters in 46 states."

Immediate goal of the 108-year-old Boys' Club movement is 1,000 Boys' Clubs to serve one million boys. We are happy to be a part of it and we think the people of South San Francisco for making it possible," concluded Sauer.

Oceana Students Elect Officers

Senior Hal Morton was elected president of the Oceana High School student body last week in the annual "spring" student elections.

Morton, a former student vice president, defeated Dan Woodard in the eletcion.

Other officers elected were: Leo Pointer, council representative; Joyce Mirabelli, secretary; Sue Antonaros, treasurer; Joyce Jenson, commissioner of clubs; Dan Halkyard, commissioner of grounds and games, and Barbara Wereda, commissioner of publicity.

Mainliner Toastmaster Unit Installs

Mainliner Toastmasters Club 1213 installed its newly elected officers for 1968 at a banquet at Olivers Restaurant in South San Francisco recently, also celebrating the fifteenth anniversary of its charter.

Highlight of the evening was a demonstration of Toastmaster training by an impromptu speech. A senior member of the club, John Milburn, was announced as the next speaker and at the same time was given the title of the talk he was to give. Without any advance clue of his topic Milburn proceeded to give a five minute talk on "The Vietnam Draft".

Honors were bestowed on Lorrie Vernazza for winning the club's recent humorous speech contest. He also was recipient of a trophy for his efforts in the incentive program in furthering the objectives of Toastmastering.

International Toastmasters Area Governor Joe Barca installed the 1968 officers. Installed was President Lorrie Vernazza, Educational Vice President Adolf Scherer, Administrative Vice Pesident Klaus Vierman, Secretary Treasurer Vic Kelley and Sergeant-At-Arms Frank Megino.

The club meets every Monday at the United Airlines Maintenance Base at 4:45 p.m. and is open to any man from United or neighboring cities.

Miss Travioli Weds Philip DeWeese in San Bruno

The First Baptist Church in San Bruno was the setting for the recent marriage of Karen Lee Travioli and Philip Lawrence DeWesse. They honeymooned at Disneyland before returning to live in Richmond.

Karen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Alva Travioli, was attended by Helen Ann Fanucchi as maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Roberta DeWeese, sister of the bridegroom; Karen Johnson, and Linda Morrow. April and Sandra Lehto, cousins of the bride, served as flower girls.

Lyle Tallent was best man for Philip, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anchlin DeWeese. Guests were seated by Gary Travioli, brother of the bride; Frank Harrington, and Bill Acheff.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Lehto of Burlingame and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Travioli of Sonora, grandparents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ketchum of Portland, Ore., grandparents of the benedict.

The bride attended Capuchino High School and College of San Mateo. Her husband attended Carlmont High School, CSM and the Automation Institute.

Clubwomen To See Slide Tour

Slides of scenic and historical points in California will be shown by Mike Hansen at Wednesday's meeting of the Lomita Park Women's Club at 8 p.m. in their social hall, 520 San Anselmo Avenue, San Bruno.

Plans for a money-raising project will be discussed at the Valentine's Day affair. Any person interested in joining the club has been asked to attend.

THE WILLIAM GLAHS (Jean Salozar)

Carmel Wedding Trip for Couple

After a honeymoon in Carmel, Mr. and Mrs. William Michael Glah (Jean Salozar) are at home in South San Francisco. They were married recently at St. Veronica's Catholic Church in South San Francisco.

Jean, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Salozar of South San Francisco, was attended by Mrs. Rosella Baca as matron of honor and Mrs. Jo Ann Crespin as the bridesmaid. Allison Salozar was the flower girl and Rory Salozar, the ring bearer, for their sister.

Ben Baca served as best man for William, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Glah of Cleveland, Ohio. Guests were seated by Thomas Crespin.

The new matron attended South San Francisco High School and the College of San Mateo. Her husband attended Euclid High School in Cleveland and served four years with the Navy including a tour of duty in Vietnam on the USS Ranger. Mrs. Barbara Wyatt is his sister.

Daly City Girl Engaged to Wed

A recent party at the Daly City home of Mr. and Mrs. Giles Hulsmann was the occasion for them to announce that their daughter, Judith, is the future bride of William Holden of Middletown, N.Y.

The bride-elected attended Presentation High School in San Francisco and is the sister of Richard, Robert and Giles Hulsmann Jr.

Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Anna Holden of Middletown. He attended Middletown High School and now serves in the Air Force.

Wedding plans are incomplete.

CALIFORNIA FRESH . . . This isn't the way passengers are regularly served aboard Air California Airlines, but because he is president of Best Fruit and Produce Co. of South San Francisco and originator of the Fresh Fruit Pack, Joseph Carcione got special attention from Stewardess Diana Oswalt, who served the fruit gifts in addition to regular food fare. The new Fruit Pack service was announced this week at the 64th annual United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association Convention in San Francisco. Packed by Best at the rate of nearly 50,000 a week, the Fruit Pack has become a hit with air passengers who accept the gift in addition to coffee, tea or milk. Type of fruit varies — whatever is in peak of flavor. The Pack now consists of an apple, tangelo and a package of peanuts, enclosed in a clear plastic bubble-shaped container for protection.

Sorority To Honor Pledge

Xi Lambda Sigma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will honor pledge Mrs. Marvin Cushing tonight with a candlelight ceremony at the New Southern Restaurant.

Mrs. Cushing will receive her Ritual of Jewels Degree.

Conducting the ceremonies will be the president, Mrs. Norman Jackson; assisted by Vice Pres. Mrs. Ralph Favor, and special guest Miss Esther Cloud of San Francisco.

A short business meeting will follow.

The Chapters chosen Philanthropic project for the year is the Crippled Children's Society.

Those attending the February Brunch in Palo Alto were Mrs. Norman Jackson, Mrs. Ralph Faver, Mrs. Marvin Cushing, Mrs. Richard Rowland, Mrs. C. M. Sheridan, Mrs. Ed Dominion, Mrs. Howard Shilling, Mrs. Ed Reid, and Mrs. Ann Pruder.

Arrangement Classes Set

Flower arranging classes will be offered by the Daly City Recreation Department.

Beginning February 21, classes will be held at the War Memorial Community Center each Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Instruction in the fundamentals of flower arranging will be given — teaching class members techniques of blending and contrasting to create arrangements for every occasion.

Each class member will need cutters, all other materials will be available for use in class. Pre-registration is requested as class size will be limited. A $6 registration fee will be charged.

Basketball, Life Member Award Slated

Excitement is reported mounting for the coming KYA basketball game to be played at Westmoor High School February 17. The Westmoor P-TA will serve a spaghetti dinner before the 8 p.m. game.

The P-TA's Honorary Life Membership will be presented at half time.

Dinner will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. Tickets for the dinner, dance, and "big game" are $1.75.

Admission for the game only is $1.25.

Weaver Chorale Concert in D.C.

The War Memorial Auditorium in Daly City will be the scene of the monthly Saturday Musicale presenting in concert the San Francisco Sacred Concert Society on February 24 at 8 p.m.

Directed by Dr. Paul Weaver, a San Carlos dentist, the evening's program will include the Weaver Chorale, 40 recording singers and musicians and the Songweavers, a popular group of folk singers presenting a new dimension in sacred song.

Their performances both in concert and recordings feature the total spectrum of sacred sound, including traditional and contemporary works, hymns, gospel song, spirituals and folk tunes.

"The members of the society," according to Producer Dave Peters, of the Daly City Concert Association, "reside in many parts of the Bay Area and enthusiastically give of their time in two major San Francisco concerts yearly, as well as other area concerts."

The Songweavers, directed by Phil Dunaway, have recorded an album "Songweavers on the Move" which won a recent award as the best album of the year in the folk-sacred category.

Admission to the concert is $2 donation to be paid at the door. The War Memorial Auditorium is located at 6655 Mission in Daly City.

Doors will open at 7:15 p.m.

SHOES will be among the items to be found at the Westlake Catholic Women's annual rummage sale at the San Francisco Armory, 14th and Mission Streets, March 4. A March 2 pre-sale at the Daly City Church's Parish Hall has been scheduled. Getting an advance fit are Robin Osborne (from her mother, Mrs. Paul Osborne, left) and Mary Lou Kachur (from her mother, Mrs. John Kachur, right).

Fashion Show Reservations Deadline Set

Chairman Mrs. Belinda Byrne announced that February 15 is the final day reservations can be accepted for the fashion show-luncheon sponsored by the Altar Rosary Sodality of Pacifica's Church of the Good Shepherd.

"Come to the Mardi Gras" will be held February 24 at the South San Francisco Elks Lodge to benefit the parish school building fund.

Members of the Sodality will receive communion as a group at the 10:30 mass, February 18.

'Emeritus Donor' At Blood Bank

MRS. HAROLD Johnson is the chairman of the Westlake Catholic Women's annual rummage sale, to be held March 2 and March 4.

Mrs. John A. Walker of 101 East Vista Avenue, Daly City, received an unusual 61st birthday gift on February 2 when she achieved Emeritus Donor status at the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of the San Francisco Medical Society.

Emeritus Donors are individuals who have made 20 or more voluntary blood donations at Irwin Memorial Blood Bank and have passed their sixtieth year, making them ineligible to continue giving blood.

Mrs. Walker, who made her 23rd and final blood donation on January 22, now joins the elite group of some 60 former Irwin blood donors. Her Emeritus Donor card entitles Mrs. Walker and her husband, a 63-year-old retired PG&E construction foreman and a 17-time blood donor, to all the blood replacements they may ever need, free of charge.

Besides having been regular blood donors themselves, Mr. and Mrs. Walker are active recruiters for the blood bank. Several years ago, they organized a Blood Reserve Fund group at Bethel Lutheran Church, 2525 Alemany Boulevard.

Members of the group, men and women in their late forties and fifties, make regular blood donations to build blood credit for themselves in case of need.

Daly City TEENS

The Casualiers Teen Club, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, went on a snow trip recently to Bumble Bee Hill.

Many of them saw snow falling for the first time.

Last week there was a "grub dance" at Colma Intermediate School.

The Casualiers have many activities planned between now and the summer, including a trip to Santa Cruz, a beach party and a band battle between the "Just Sound" and the "Vertical Hold."

No Leavening Agent

Good morning, good cooks.

Last week's column ended on a delicious note, a wonderful made-from-scratch cake that is a joy. I had some calls at the paper inquiring about the lack of a leavening agent in the cake. The recipe doesn't call for any, the six well-beaten eggs provide the lift needed for this beauty.

I've been making quite a few "scratch" cakes recently, and today seems to be the right time to share them with you good cooks. I know we all are happy with and sing praises to the companies that put out the wonderfully easy cake mixes, but it's also fun to start at the beginning in making a cake.

The thing that interested me in these cakes is that though they are hand-made, they are made in an unusual manner. For example this first cake has a funny name and a funnier method of mixing.

MIXIE-FIXIE CAKE

1½ cups flour
1 cup sugar
⅓ cup cocoa
1 teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup water
½ cup salad oil
1 Tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Set your oven to 375 degrees. Grease an 8x8-inch square pan. Into this pan sift the one and one-half cups flour, one cup sugar, one-third cup cocoa, one teaspoon soda and one-fourth teaspoon salt.

Make a hole in the center of the sifted dry ingredients and fill it with the one cup water, one-half cup salad oil, one tablespoon vinegar and one teaspoon vanilla. Mix well and bake in 375-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes.

This cake is rich and dark and really doesn't require a frosting, sifting powdered sugar over the top suits it fine. However, if no cake is complete without a frosting in your home, by all means frost it.

OUR NEXT CAKE comes from an old cookbook that a friend loaned me. It was published by the Pillsbury Company and is dated 1914. Each recipe in it sounds delicious and next week I'm going to make the Soft Ginger Bread recipe. The one that caught my eye first on the page was this one called "Three-Minute Cake." It really is tasty and does mix up in a jiffy. The results of this quick mix is a cake that is spicy and light.

THREE-MINUTE CAKE

2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
2 eggs
½ cup milk
1⅓ cups brown sugar
⅓ cup butter
½ pitted dates, cut up, or one cup raisins

Into your mixing bowl sift the two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg. Next add the two eggs, one-half cup milk, one and one-third cups brown sugar, one third cup butter and the fruit.

Beat for three minutes. Pour into a greased and lightly floured square baking pan, 9x9-inches and bake in a 350-degree oven 35 to 40 minutes or until the cake springs back to your light touch.

This cake responds nicely to a light sifting of powder sugar on its top.

NOTE: Be sure to put all the ingredients in together, adding them separately will cause failure.

WHEN I WAS SCRAPING the batter into the baking pan I was sure this next cake got its name because any one who tried to bake it was crazy. The batter was stiff and lumpy and I really had great doubts as I place it in the oven.

I should never have doubted, it came out perfect. A very moist and delicious cake, almost a pudding cake, but firm enough to be eaten in lunches.

CRAZY CAKE

2 apples, peeled and chopped
1 egg
1 cup sugar
¼ cup soft shortening
¾ cup chopped nuts
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt

I used two medium sized apples, peeled them and chopped them fine into my mixing bowl. Added the one egg, one cup sugar and one-fourth cup shortening and the three-fourths cup chopped nuts.

Sifted the one cup flour, one teaspoon each cinnamon and baking soda, and one-fourth teaspoon salt into the bowl. Mixed it for about three minutes and scraped it into the greased and floured 9x9-inch pan. Baked in 350-degree oven 35 to 40 minutes, and topped with sifted powdered sugar.

NOTE: Don't panic when you see how dry and lumpy it seems before baking, the heat of the oven works miracles.

AS YOU CAN SEE all my recipe testing recently has been baking, yum, and I want to include these cookie recipes in today's offering to you good cooks.

DUTCH SAND TARTS

1 cup soft butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1 egg
2 cups sifted flour
1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate bits

Cream together the one cup butter, one teaspoon vanilla, one-half teaspoon almond extract and one-half teaspoon salt. Add the one cup sugar gradually, creaming well. Beat in egg.

Sift in the two cups flour and add the chocolate pieces. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven, 15 minutes. Makes about 6 dozen.

It will be just a little over a week now before Mrs. Audrey Arnold, Mrs. Joan Campillo, Mrs. Nancy Downing, Mrs. Carol Lauer, Mrs. Peggy McDevitt, Mrs. Ann O'Rourke, Mrs. Pat Pursch, Mrs. Marge Sekara, Mrs. Terry Wiszowaty and Mrs. Joanne Wynne don spring attire from the Fashion of Westlake and bravely smiling, trip down a runway set up in the South San Francisco Elk's Lodge.

The occasion will be the fashion show and luncheon being sponsored by the Altar Rosary Sodality of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Pacifica.

Mrs. Anita Taylor is the chairman of the event, which has been dubbed the Madri Gras of Fashion. Mrs. Joan Campillo is the co-chairman and assisting will be Mrs. Sharon Almeida, program committee chairman; Mrs. Nancy Pult, door prizes; Mrs. Nancy Wilson, investments; Mrs. Frances Genest, hostesses; Mrs. Eulalia Sumpter, decorations; Mrs. Marilyn Campbell, posters; Mrs. Lia Merlini, table favors; Mrs. Terry Murphy, publicity, and Mrs. Belinda Byrne, advance reservations.

The fashion whirl is slated for February 24, with a no-host cocktail party at noon, followed by the luncheon at 1 p.m.

Tickets, which are available for a $5 donation, are being sold to benefit the parish school building fund, Mrs. Murphy explained.

MEMBERS OF THE Daly City Community Chorus are alerted to the fact that there will be no rehearsal tomorrow evening. Rather, all singers are expected to be on hand for the Vista Mar P-TA program at 7:30 p.m.

According to Mrs. Janet Gillmore, soloists for the evening will be Frank Benjamin and Richard Neves. The chorus, under the direction of Dennis Desjardins, will perform "All the Things You Are, Smoke Gets in Your Eyes, Look for the Silver Lining and a medley from the Sound of Music.

The membership of the chorus, during a brief business meeting held earlier elected Mrs. Ellamae Scholtz to the post of membership chairman, according to Mrs. Gillmore.

MRS. MURRAY H. FREEDMAN, just back from an awe inspiring trip to the Holy Land which included 14 days of touring the historic locales and viewing the modern progress of Israel, is already up to her eyebrows in projects and meetings.

She is among those assisting Carlos Mattson, the newly elected Commadore of the Lake Merced Sailing Club, with the fourth annual Spring Invitational Regatta, scheduled for February 22 on Lake Merced.

According to Mrs. Freedman, the event is open to all S.B.R.A. (small boat racing association) classes. Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. and a committee will be on hand to serve coffee and doughnuts during the preliminaries. Racing will begin at 10:30 a.m. and trophies will be awarded winners at the close of the day's events.

Among the Peninsula racing enthusiass who will be taking part in the day's fun will be Lloyd Clay, David Cookson, Elva Flagg, Jeff Freedman, Donna Gonzales, Dick and Bessie Hart and Ron Schmidt.

MRS. VIRGINIA HUPF, chairman of the decorations for the North Peninsula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home fashion show, docketed for March 28, was the hostess for a "floral craft bee" this past week.

Among those who armed themselves with shears and a plethora of enthusiasm and came to work on the centerpieces were Mrs. Peggy Crandall, Mrs. Frank Greenwood, Mrs. Gail Mahoney, Mrs. Lee Stringer, Mrs. June Gill, Mrs. Tish Cecconi, Mrs. Jean Jabin, Mrs. Winifred Morgan, Mrs. Mary O'Neil and Mrs. Ann Coltrell. Mrs. Marie Poggio, co-chairman of the upcoming fashion gala, also found time to drop by and lend a hand with the preparations.

MONDAY'S LUNCHEON at the Red Chimney Restaurant in San Francisco will be a major event in the year for members of the executive board of the Pacifica Federated Women's Club, according to word from Mrs. Eva Morton, president of the unit.

All reports and paper work, dealing with events of the past year, must be completed and ready for the district convention judging prior to March 1 and Monday the committee chairmen and officers will be receiving hints and suggestions for preparing award winning entries, Mrs. Morton said.

In the past the Pacifica group has done remarkably well in the awards catagory and the current crop of officers are eager to keep that winning record intact.

The final initiation of new members before the close of the fiscal year will be held on next Tuesday with the meeting set for 8 p.m. in the cafeteria at Terra Nova High school.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of this service oriented group is asked to call Mrs. Rose Lazzaro, membership chairman, 359-1982, or Mrs. Morton, 355-5145, for additional information.

Mrs. Morton also has issued an appeal for rummage — new or used — for the annual rummage sale February 29, and March 1 and 2. Call Mrs. Morton for information on collection points or to make arrangements for pickup. Proceeds of the sale will be donated to establish a Penny Pines Plantation in memory of Mrs. Jean Lambert.

Pine seedlings are used to reforest the section of the Tahoe National Forest destroyed by fire in 1960.

Proceeds of the recent C.A.R.E. party sponsored by the federation have been tabulated and a sewing machine, a wood working kit and a village library have been purchased for overseas philanthropy, Mrs. Morton reports.

MRS. HAROLD THOMPSON is the chairman of another rummage sale . . . this one in the Westlake Area.

Mrs. Molly Galliani of the Westlake Catholic Women at the Our Lady of Mercy Church, reports that the festival committee has named Mrs. Thompson to head the event to begin with a pre-sale in the parish hall, 7 Elmwood Drive, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., March 2.

The sale will be moved to the San Francisco Armory, Fourteenth and Mission Streets, March 4. Hours will be from 9:30 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Mrs. Thompson has issued a special appeal for items of furniture and jewelry but toys, wheeled goods, new or used clothing, new cosmetics and small appliances are also needed for the event.

Persons wishing to contribute to the sale may leave their items in the parish hall each Sunday and Wednesday prior to the March 2 pre-sale.

Persons wishing to contribute heavy items may contact Mrs. Thompson or Leo Revello.

Homemaker Award Given

Because she finished first in a written knowledge and attitude examination for senior girls in December, Janice Peterson has been named 1968 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Oceana High School.

Miss Peterson's achievement has made her eligible for state and national scholarship awards and also has earned her a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow program.

Art Students Are Commended

Four Colma Intermediate students were recently awarded Certificates of Merit by Rhodes of Oakland for art work submitted and to be shown during the Scholastic Art Exhibition, February 10 through 24, at the Rhodes Gallery, Rhodes, Oakland.

The students are Roberta Elliott, Jesse Vargas, Bill Fleming, and Sue Salach.

Hansel and Gretel Performance

On March 2 the stage at Terra Nova High School will be transported to a "forest in ancient Germany," populated by Hansel, Gretel, The Sandman, The Dew Fairy, and a wild and swingin' red-haired Witch.

These characters will be in Pacifica to present Humperdinck's opera Hansel and Gretel—a premiere performance for the Pacifica Branch American Association of University Women's high school scholarship fund.

Humperdinck's fairy tale opera is based on authentic German folklore and some of the most familiar songs are old folk tunes to hum on the way home.

Hansel and Gretel will be performed by the Opera Workshop of the San Francisco Musical Club, and the ballet sequence will feature dancers from the Pacific Ballet. Members of the Opera Workshop are well known in Bay Area music circles.

Many of them are members of the Talent Bank and other performing groups, too.

Pacifica's Mildred Owen (Mrs. George Simon) has been a soloist with the Oakland Symphony, sings with the Opera Quartette, regularly sings for Friday services at Temple Judea, and most recently has received fine reviews for her performance in PDQ Bach at the Opera House.

There will be two performances of Hansel and Gretel March 2—11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Until February 21 groups may reserve blocks of seats by calling Mrs. Tom Collins in Pacifica — fine for birthday parties.

Tickets will be on sale at Mr. Music in Linda Mar Shopping Center; The Checkered Frog on Pedro Point; The Dal Pac Gallery, Palmetto and Santa Rosa in Sharp Park, and Manor Music on West Manor Drive, Pacific Manor Shopping Center.

Tickets are $1 each—a donation to the high school scholarship fund of the Pacifica Branch, American Association of University Women.

Brotherhood Temples To Hear Mayor

The four congregations of Brotherhood Way — St. Thomas More Catholic Church, Temple Judea, The Lake Merced Church of Christ and The Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church, will sponsor an Open House Sunday to mark the beginning of National Brotherhood Week, 1968, and will reaffirm the hope and ideals of brotherhood that prompted the name change 10 years ago from Stanley Drive to Brotherhood Way.

San Francisco's new mayor, Joseph Alioto will be the principal speaker at the 2 p.m. ceremonies in the Fellowship Hall of Temple Judea.

Introducing Mayor Alioto will be former mayor George Christopher.

In addition to several members of San Francisco's Board of Supervisors, the commemoration will be attended by State Senators George Moscone and Milton Marks; and Assemblymen John Burton and Willie Brown.

The choirs from the Greek Orthodox Church and Temple Judea will be performing liturgical music as part of the ecumenical program. There will be conducted tours of all the congregations immediately following the program. Families are encouraged to attend and visit all of the houses of worship and to see how all of the congregations have bonded together.

'Art Week' Is Set in South S.F.

The South San Francisco City Council has declared February 12-18 as Art Week in its city, in recognition of the Art Festival sponsored by the city's schools and "Art in Action," a panoramic art demonstration to be held February 17 at the Orange Avenue Library.

The art in Action event will be sponsored by the American Association of University Women, San Bruno branch.

Mrs Robert Maxey, program chairman for AAUW and in charge of Art in Action, formally presented Mayor Patrick Ahern with an invitation to the residents of South San Francisco to attend the event which is free of charge.

Mrs. Maxey stressed that the event is not a display but a demonstration of the beauty in various art forms.

12-12:30 — Jim Gordan — Landscape Design, Central Section, Main Floor; Pat Lavin — Puppets, Children's Section, Main Floor.

12:30 - 1 — William Wagner — Mosaics, Lower level; Robert Bridges — Music, Lower Level, Auditorium.

2:30-3 — Pat Lavin — Puppets, Second Showing, Children's Section, Main Floor.

Pre-Teen Church Unit Will Meet

The Chavorims, pre-teen youth group of Congregation B'nai Israel will hold business meeting on Wednesday at the Templehouse at 7 p.m.

A short business meeting will be conducted by president Tony Michaelis and a series of panel discussions will follow.

Final reservations will be accepted at that time for the snow trip scheduled for February 25 at Soda Springs.

Thomas E. Wright, M.D. will be the speaker in the Congregation B'nai Israel Adult Education Program for February. His topic will be "Jewish Thought on Modern Medicine." Dr. Wright received his Bachelor of Science and M.D. degrees from Ohio State University and was resident in internal medicine at Milwaukee County General Hospital. He is also at Lt. Commander in the Medical Corps, U.S.N.R. Medical Clinic. Dr. Wright is a member of the congregation and is serving as its representative to the Board of Governors of the Bureau of Jewish Education. The lecture will be held at the Tempelhouse at 8 p.m. February 20.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Terra Nova TOPICS

By ALICE REICHERT

Terra Nova's Senior Class sponsored "Swing-In '68," another successful dance which sold over 420 tickets. A light show was provided by Hypnotic Inc., to the music of the Gnu and the Sweet Brotherhood Corporation.

TEN STUDENTS represented Terra Nova at the Model United Nations last week, February 8, 9, and 10, in the Student Union building of the University of California at Berkeley. The main purpose of this U.N. meeting was to familiarize high school students with the functions of the United Nations.

Terra Nova represented the African country of Sierra Leone. Participants from T.N. were: Maria Montenegro and Greg Beeman on the Integration Committee; Jack Schultz and Ken Borland of the Political Committee; Dave Limcaco and Larry Hail of the Disarmament Committee; Susan Eldred and Carol Porter of the Cultural Committee, and Randy Barnhart and Mark Boyden of the Political Security Committee. Faculty advisors on the weekend trip were Mr. Alvergue and Mr. Damon.

SANDRA FELIX, a sophomore, has been selected as T.N.'s representative for the California State Honor Band, meeting at Fresno, February 21, 22, 23, and 24. Sandra is one of 600 high school students in the state selected for this honor. She plays clarinet in the band.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE

TAKING PROPER CARE OF WOOD SURFACES

The National Association of Furniture Manufacturers makes the following suggestions in order to take proper care of wood surfaces on furniture, and we pass them along to you as a public service.

Immediately remove any liquids spilled on surfaces and always use a blotting rather than a wiping action.

Pre-test cleaning and polishing methods on an inconspicuous part of the furniture before applying to more exposed parts.

Avoid exposing indoor furniture to strong sunlight.

Some rubber and vinyl products stain or soften furniture finishes. A protective pad, or piece of felt, should be used between them and the furniture finish.

Lift objects to move them; never drag them across the finished surface.

Avoid exposing wood surfaces to extreme heat or cold.

Avoid burning surfaces by using pads under hot dishes. Although the finish itself may be highly burn resistant, the wood underneath the finish can be charred by a burning cigarette.

Use only polishes recommended for furniture. A self-polishing floor wax, for instance, would soften the finish on furniture.

When dusting or waxing always work with the grain of the wood.

Steven W. Archer To Claim a Bride

KATHLEEN BATES
Future Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bates of Fortuna announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen, to Steven W. Archer of Daly City. The future bride is a medical record technician employed at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City where she resides. She attended schools in Ventura and Santa Rosa where she was graduated from Montgomery High School. She went on to Santa Rosa Junior College.

Steven, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Archer of San Francisco, attended schools in San Mateo and received his diploma from San Mateo High School. He is currently attending San Francisco State College.

The couple will be married on February 17 in San Francisco.

Student Talks To Rotarians In Daly City

Westmoor high school student body president Don Weiden will attend the Wednesday meeting of the Daly City Rotary Club at International Joe's to outline school activities, as well as his won.

The Daly City Rotary Club hosts representatives of Westmoor and Jefferson high schools to meet the students and have the students meet the business and professional men who belong to the service organization.

Weiden was introduced at last week's meeting by Clarence Pughe, the club's student guest host.

CSM Prexy Will Speak

The Jefferson Council of P-TA's will welcome Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo, president of the College of San Mateo, as speaker at the February 19 Council meeting in the Westmoor High School cafeteria at 8 p.m.

The advantages that College of San Mateo offers to our communities, as well as information on the coming tax bond issue, will be the subject of Dr. Bortolazzo's talk.

He will answer questions about the bond issue afterwards.

The prize winning Westmoor Stage Band will entertain the Council members and guests preceding the meeting.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Bruno Scatena Debuts International Joe's

BRUNO SCATENA, famed Bay Area restaurateur, truly went international when he created the newest restaurant in his rapidly-growing empire, International Joe's in Daly City. Bruno, with his Skyline Plaza dining haven, has even outdone his past accomplishments in the restaurant world. Besides serving the excellent food which has long been a Scatena trademark, other enticements of International Joe's range from the exotic South Seas atmosphere of the Tiki Room to the magnificent Gold Room, considered one of the most lavish banquet facilities ever constructed. Seating from 50 to 150 people, the Gold Room is ideal for weddings, private parties and sales meetings. For more intimate gatherings, it can be divided into two separate rooms, with one room having its own bar. The Tiki Room, featuring Polynesian drinks and piano bar entertainment, offers the ultimate in relaxation and is guaranteed to whisk you away to the island of your dreams. Besides standard bar favorites, the Tiki Room blenders are prepared to serve such specialties as Zombies, Mai Tais, Fog Cutters and a marvelous rum drink aptly termed a Shark's Tooth. As for the menu at International Joe's, all dinners are served a la carte. One side of the menu lists only soups, salads and appetizers; the other side suggests items "From the Charcoal Broiler" "Chef's Suggestions," and "Everyday Specials." International Specialties include dishes from several different countries, with emphasis being on Polynesian, Hawaiian and even Armenian dishes. Other successful restaurants owned and operated by Bruno Scatena are Joe's of Westlake and the Golden Coach, which is in the Fairmont Shopping Center.

L. A. SUELZLE, affectionately known as "Ike," has been with Fosters Lunch System Ltd. for 32 years. Now the merchandising manager for Fosters, "Ike" started with kitchen duties, worked up to counter man, and was later made supervisor of one of the stores. When the company opened wholesale routes, Mr. Suelzle was appointed assistant manager of the department. He then developed into full management of the wholesale division.

BESIDES THE REGULAR ENTREES which are served on a daily basis at the Black Angus Chuck Wagon, Chef James Pearce prepares several additional entrees at various times. Ranch-style Beef, Country Fried Chicken, Cowboy-style Beans, the famous Chuck Wagon Stew and always a fish or seafood item can be found seven days a week on the entree side of the buffet. Add to this the 30-foot iced salad bar filled with every tempting appetizer imaginable, and you have an "All you can eat" food spread that calls for seconds . . . Suggestion: Plan to dine early at the South San Francisco International Inn restaurant. Al Kendlinger and Jack Pichardy report that the waiting list forms here at an early hour.

CREDITS TO MANAGER CLAUDE SCHROEDER for directing one of the busiest banquet Saturdays in Fred and Jerry Rapp's Holiday Inn, South San Francisco. R. F. Johnson and Son met in the Executive Room in the early morning, Pendelton Tool Company gathered in the beautiful Franciscan Room all through the day, and a group from Concept Therapy met in both the Alta Mira and El Camino rooms . . . Deep in the heart of downtown San Francisco, a giant fiee-breathing phoenix bird statue guards the entrance of one of Americ a's most unique restaurants. Vasili's Bistro, located in the little alley (Campton Place) behind Gump's, is small, intimate, gracious. Thousands of pounds of iron sculpture in the form of wings hang from the ceiling in a prize-winning decor created by designer Don Clever. Mediterranean cusine, including Greek, Italian and Spanish is featured.

Walter Glinsky Returns To The Villa Chartier

News galore from the Villa Chartier and Lanai restaurants: Last Friday Bright Lights reported that "Bernard" had returned to handle the Lanai restaurant duties. This week it's a delight to announce that Walter Glinsky is back under the Villa Chartier roof greeting his many friends. Walter, who comes to the Emerson Murfee restaurant direct from the Sheraton Palace Hotel, is one of the most-well-liked gents in the restaurant field.

Television star Lorne Greene, head of the "Bonanza" clan, and a party of friends enjoyed dinner at Yolanda's Terminal Cafe, located in the Golden Gate Produce Terminal, South San Francisco, last week, and manager Chuck Winstead said they had only raves for owner Yolanda Fambrini's old-fashioned "Family-style" dinners. They all agreed that better grub couldn't be found on the "Ponderosa."

Time switch: Cafe El Portal by Golden Gate Park in San Francisco advises they should have reported their new dance schedule as follows: Bob Close and The Playboys Orchestra are now on deck Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 9 p.m.; Sundays and holidays from 8 p.m. No cover charge for dancing.

Trio Bel Canto Breaks All Zorba Records

The stampede of fun seekers who have been invading Alexi's Zorba supperclub during the current engagement of Trio Bel Canto has been most remarkable. Every record in Zorba's reservations book has been shattered. The lively Burlingame club has been so crowded, that last Friday and Saturday found patrons dancing on the tables, believe it or not. The popular trio of Greek songs and exciting musical renditions will close their successful engagement this week, and the management will try to rebook them as soon as they have an available date. Besides outstanding entertainment, Alexi's Zorba features cuisine prepared by internationally famed Chef Peter Alex, whose Shish-Kebab Souvlaki is a real crowd pleaser. The charm of hostess Sofia adds to the happy scene, as does the congeniality of general manager Peter Laris.

Clip The Advertisement And Enjoy A Cocktail

Phyllis and Augie Aprile would like to acquaint you with their new Augie's of Third Avenue restaurant menu, which was created by Chef Tony and includes a wide selection of Italian dinners, along with the regular American selections. Special tip for Bright Lights readers: Augie's full course dinners, which come under the $3.50 bracket, will also include a free after-dinner drink when presenting the advertisement which appears in Bright Lights, today, to your waitress.

"Life Is A Cabaret" Finocchio's Special

Billie De Voe, the swingin' singer who has made "Alexis from Texas" a trademark of his entertaining routine at Finocchio's, is starting 1968 in high gear. He's already had two offers to cut albums, and been invited to Dallas for a mid-spring appearance on the TV show "That's Something." His newest number in the colorful revue of female impersonators is "Life Is A Cabaret," in which he displays a startling wardrobe.

"MOBY DICK" — These swordfish might not be whale-sized, but when Phil Maita, the Fireside Lounge co-owner, hauled them in it must have felt like it. "Man," said Phil when he reported back to the club, "these sea-going cats must be half brothers to a whale!" Phil plans to stuff them (where, I don't know). No doubt, the trophies will soon be added attractions at the Fireside.

FOSTERS ORIGINAL Pancake and Chicken House makes "Breakfast All Day" a pleasure. Enjoyed a chat with Albert Christensen, manager of the El Camino Real Fosters, located across from the Hillsdale Shopping Center, and he especially called my attention to the six tender Buttermilk Pancakes, along with Buckwheat Cakes. "These are the most popular requests," said Mr. Christensen, "but we also have 14 other varieties, plus three special waffle preparations from which to choose. The Special Breakfast, which consists of Hickory Smoked Bacon, large ranch egg, three buttermilk pancakes, syrup and butter, and coffee — all for just one dollar, is also a big seller. No matter what your breakfast, luncheon or dinner choice may be, you're assured of the very best when dining at Fosters Original Pancake and Chicken House. Open 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. seven

Mary Lou Francis Button Collector

Local Politics certainly fascinate pert Mary Lou Francis of the Scotty Campbell's clan, but her real interest in political campaigns goes back several years. Besides the fortune in antiques which she and her sister, Theresa, have collected through the years, Mary Lou also has a sizeable collection of Presidential campaign buttons.

S.S.F. Hotel Permit Story

A request for a use permit for a 64-unit motel and restaurant was received this week by the South San Francisco Planning Commission, City Planner Daniel Pass said.

The Magleby and Traner Company is seeking a permit to establish the new hostelry on the west side of Airport Boulevard near the Mitchell Avence intersection in an M-2-H District.

Pass has recommended approval of the permit, and planning commissioners weretoconsider it at their regular meeting February 13.

Veterinarian R. D. Hanel has also requested a use permit for a new animal hospital in the located on the southeast side of city.

BIG PUMP

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — The Tehachapi Pumping Plant of the California Water Project will lift 110 million gallons of water an hour over the mountains into Southern California when it is completed in 1971.

'Snow Drunk' In San Bruno

Daly City police and sheriff's deputies are shaking their heads over history's first confirmed sighting of an "abominable snow drunk."

Police were summoned when several small boys observed a "strange, fuzzy animal, about six feet tall," scurrying about on San Bruno Mountain.

Because the "monster" was seen walking toward the city limits (and possibly because they wanted to share the glory of any historical capture), Daly City Police notified sheriff's deputies, and organized a search.

A few minutes later, a sizable posse of law officers closed in, and apprehended a local citizen, a man not known for his aversion to drink.

He was wearing a rather shaggy coat, officers said.

TV Set Stolen In Daly City

Burglars forced open the front door of the James Orsino home at 374 Eighty-ninth Street, Daly City, last week and carted off a color television set, portable TV set and miscellaneous jewelry valued at more than $600.

D.C. Boy Nude On Campus

A Daly City youth was arrested on the steps of Sproul Hall at the University of California campus in Berkeley Thursday, after he disrobed before a large crowd of students "to protest the war in Vietnam."

Charles W. Pengra, 20, a student at the university until the winter quarter, was arrested by Assistant Dean of Men James Lemmon and campus police after he mounted the steps and removed all his clothes during the noon hour.

A junior majoring in psychology until he dropped out of school last quarter, Pengra carried a picket sign Thursday stating: "I am not obscene, the war is!'

He was booked at the Berkeley Hall of Justice on charges of indecent exposure and resisting arrest.

Witnesses said Pengra walked to the top of the steps unobserved, then quietly began to remove his clothes. A crowd of several hundred students quickly gathered.

University officials listed 88 Lakemont Drive, Daly City, as his home address.

Green Beret Tells Horror

Tom Bollingsworth, a Green Beret veteran of the war in Vietnam, was guest speaker at a meeting of the John Birch Society's TACT Comittee in Pacifica last Wednesday night.

A veteran of nine years' service with the Army's Special Forces, Hollingsworth spoke on the "behind the scenes" activities of the counterinsurgency troops, and gave a detailed description of Viet Cong atrocities.

He exhibited a collection of the crude weapons used by the South Vietnamese peasants and the Viet Cong, and also described the specialized training received by the Army's Green Berets.

The latter portions of Bollingsworth's speech dealt with civil disobedience and mob violence in this country.

It is this belief that the present civil unrest in the United States is Communist-directed, and the purpose of the "so-called peace marchers" is to aid the cause of International Communism.

Hollingsworth, who now works as a salesman in his native Oklahoma City, was introduced to the audience Wednesday by TACT Chairman Ray Cook of Pacifica.

S.S.F. Thefts Are Reported

A television set, $10 in coins and a man's shirt were taken from a South San Francisco residence in a burglary Tuesday, police reported.

Officers said the burglary occurred at the Maple Avenue residence of Sterling Hines between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Tuesday while occupants were away. Entrance to the premises was gained through a side window.

Arbitration on S.S.F. Route?

Chairman James V. Fitzgerald of the County Board of Supervisors suggested Thursday that a dispute between the county and South San Francisco over a street project be submitted to binding arbitration.

He proposed the unusual procedure as a means of breaking a stalemate over the Westborough Boulevard extension project between Junipero Serra Freeway and El Camino Real.

The county's plan for the million-dollar project calls for enclosing part of Twelve-mile Creek in large pipes under the roadway but leaving a portion of the stream open where it loops away from the road alignment. South San Francisco officials want all of the creek to be covered and insist that it should be part of the road construction project and, therefore, the county's responsibility. County Engineer Don S. Wilson contends, on the other hand, that covering the remaining loop of the creek is an extraneous feature that South San Francisco should pay for. He has offered, however, to contribute to the city the amount of money that would be spent for construction that would not be required if the creek were covered.

At the board meeting last Tuesday Fitzgerald urged that a committee of disinterested engineers be named to hear both sides of the dispute and come to a decision which the county and city would agree in advance to accept.

At stake would be any amount up to the estimated cost of the extra work — $182,000.

Fitzgerald's suggestion found little support among other members of the board and it was decided to refer the matter to Wilson for a recommendation on the procedure to be followed.

Crestmoor Comedy Slated

One of the most outstanding plays of the last several decades is announced as the next presentation of Crestmoor High. This is Jean Giradoux's comedy "The Madwoman of Chaillot," an international hit in New York, London and Paris, scheduled to be presented in San Bruno on March 1st and 2nd.

Giradoux wrote the famous "Amphitryon 38" and "Ondine," but "Madwoman" is generally considered his greatest play. The "Madwoman" of the title is far from mad in the English sense of the word, she is rather, "touched" with deep wisdom.

Cathy Marchand has been cast as the Madwoman, one of the most strenuous roles ever written for the theatre. Alan Scofield will be seen as the Ragpicker, one of the Madwoman's cronies from the streets of Paris. Lou Ann Lazaar, Kathy Fitzgerald and Karen Hinkle will be seen as other madwomen friends, all of whom take hilarions part in the play's much-publicized "tea-party" scene, while Bob Fischer will act the role of the President. Richard Burton and Paul Hough play the roles of the Baron and the Prospector.

Cast in the romantic roles are Tereal McGinley as a tender-hearted waitress and Fred Barnhart as the youth in a "jam." The two-set, two-act comedy will be presented in Crestmoor High's Little Theatre.

Tim Sershan to his lowest output of the season, eight points, the El Camino Colts racked up their third win of a so far unlucky season.

"We keyed on Sershan from the start and figured that by stopping him we would have an excellent chance of winning," Warren Hagberg said. "We finally are beginning to play as a team and although it is too late for any title hopes I know we can cause more than one headache the rest of the way."

San Mateo Cats Down Crestmoor, 74-65

By JOHN HORGAN
Post Sports Writer

San Mateo High School — and some of the other contenders in the Mid-Peninsula League basketball race — may well be four years too late. Just ask the Bearcat coach, Gus Hassapakis.

"This is the year we'd like to see play-offs," commented the first-year mentor last week after his club had gotten by scrappy Crestmoor, 74-65, in San Bruno.

The victory gave San Mateo a 6-2 MPL log going into its game against Burlingame, but even batting .750 at this stage of the campaign might not be enough to overtake onrushing Hillsdale which still leads the circuit with a perfect 7-0 ledger and had a bye last week.

Play-offs, last held in 1964 in the MPL, might be just the ticket this year, according to Gus: "As far as I'm concerned, the best club in the league might well be Capuchino and look where they are (third place with three tough losses). The only thing bad about play-offs occurs when a team wins the round-robin undefeated and then is upset in the post-season play. But the way it looks in this league now, somebody is going to beat Hillsdale."

Hassapakis' own team gets its chance next Friday night on its home court, but the 'Cats can't afford to take anyone else lightly as they may have done with winless Crestmoor.

John Christgau's Falcons, led by Don Broga and Tony Snethen, led, 53-52, at the end of three periods of play and then wilted under San Mateo presssure.

Poor free throw shooting did the Falcons in as much as anything else in that quarter. Broga, a standout all day against the muscular Mateans, hit on only three of eight from the charity stripe in the final stanza and his mates could muster just two field goals and five more foul tosses as well.

For the game, San Mateo got good work from center Stu Haldon and Jim Scott who potted 23 and 21 points respectively. Haldon, according to Hassapakis, "played his best game of the season."

Crestmoor's Broga hit for 21 points and gobbled up 18 rebounds and continues to pace the MPL in that latter category.

Snethen scored 15 points as did forward Rick Tonini.

One further encouraging note for the Bearcats was the effort displayed by sophomore Calvin Swann, the husky potential standout who has been unable to play all year until now due to a broken right thumb.

Swann played about six minutes at center and seems ready to help Hassapakis in his uphill fight for the title.

BOWLING ACTIVITY

The activities at the Westlake Bowl and Serra Bowl in Daly City and Sea Bowl in Pacifica are prepared weekly for the Post by staff members of each business. Inquiries should be directed to them, rather than the Post.

Westlake Bowl

By JIM GREALISH

This is sign-up week for the Westlake Championships of the San Francisco Bowling Championship Tournament as men's teams will be shooting for the right to represent Westlake in the Roll-offs for the City Championship. Ted Wittke and Bill Greer will be on hand to accept entry blanks.

Zee Lopez set a new high series mark in the Starliters League last week as she rolled a 196 game and 573 series.

A 643 series by Sam Pitt took top honors in B'nai B'rith Men's League. Sam had games of 222-207 and 214.

Entries for the California State Men's Tournament close February 24. Entry blanks are available at the desk.

Entries for the California State Men's Tournament close February 24. Entry blanks are available at the desk.

John McNutty came close to the 700 mark as he topped the Westlake 900 Majors League Friday night. John had a 692 series with a high game of 238. Other high rollers were Ray Moore with 244—654 and Bill Greer with 238—652.

Leader for the week in the 805 Scratch League was Bob Hagberg with a 207 game and 589 series.

George Boitano took time off from his restaurant opertaion to lead the Veterans' League for the week with a 211 game and 583 series.

In the Lucky Lager League, Dora Murdoth led the ladies with a 149 game and 439 series as Don Ahendola shot 196 and 567 to lead the men.

Dave Pansini rolled games of 181-203 and 223 to lead the 850 American Scratch League with a 607 series.

A 234 game and 574 series by Don Welsh led the Golden Gate Handicap League for the week.

Ruth Maniscalco with 205—488 and Al Moretti with 218—554 were high for the week in the TGIF Mixed Fives League.

Telco "Bowler of the Week" was Len Heiser who rolled a big 259 game and great 644 series.

A 268 game by Frank Cunneen topped the Westmoor Handicap League in that department. Charles Damon took the high series mark with 598.

Scores were high again in the Lakeside Mixed Fives League as Secretary Rowena DeLucchi with 164 and 476 and Joe Fazzino with a 617 series on games of 156-191 and a great 270.

Fred Sam rolled a 222 game and 600 series to lead the Cance League for the week.

Otis Elevator League bowlers of the week were Wanda Young and Phyllis Moore, both of whom shot 496 series and Nick Fontana with a 189 game and 519 series.

The Westlake Knolls League continued to produce top scores. Last week Dave Hicks started with a 212 game, snot a big 244 second game and finished with 224 for a great 680 series.

Last Saturday was "Pfizer and Friends Day" at Westlake as the Tuesday night Pfizer bowlers held their annual tournament and buffet.

Jean Lunghi and Doug Hodgins were the leaders for the week in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives League as Jean rolled a 187 game and 519 series and Doug shot a 196 game and 555 series.

Carla and Bob Pardini teamed to take top honors in the PVO League, Carla with 144—395 and Bob with a 188 game and 536 series.

Leading the Ladies 850 Scratch League for the week was Mercedes Johnson with a 218 game and 562 series.

As the new G.E.T. League started competition, Ken Messenger led the scoring with a 209 game and 550 series.

Bowlers Victory Legion Finals will be held next Sunday with Class A and B at Brentwood, Class C at Broadway-Van Ness and Class D and E at Lincoln.

Leading the Country Club Handicap League for the week was Ward Pothoff who rolled a 192 game and 564 series.

After 13 consecutive victories, Barry's of Westlake dropped their third game to H. F. Suhr last Wednesday night in the Westlake Bowl's Les Barrett 940 Masters League.

Ray Moore led the tailors with games of 246-268 and 219 for a 733 series while sponsor Herb Suhr topped the funeral men with a 680 series on games of 232-214 and 234.

Contrary to the latest bumper strips, Rick Barry isn't alive and scoreless in Oakland; he's playing and scoring on this side of the bridge — not for [illegible] of Bay [illegible]rs who, [illegible]ally en- [illegible]Novitzky [illegible] the dig- [illegible]eders could [illegible]ntag [illegible]each- [illegible]s like [illegible]r two [illegible]. [illegible]mic has [illegible]tion, as [illegible]PA), its [illegible]l edu- [illegible] local [illegible]tball team to play high school faculties as he had done for six years in Cleveland and New York.

He got the OK and scheduled 35 games. The Oneder schedule has since grown to about 80, with countless other schools regretfully refused for many good, legitimate, if sometimes misunderstood reasons.

Holliday's pickup team has grown into a sort of benevolent Frankenstein monster, and during an ever-lengthening basketball season is threatening to usurp as much of Holliday's time as he regular broadcasts, during which, between records, he's often figuring Oneder statistics.

Ironically, it's the very popularity of the team which can occasionally cause public relations strains, one of several nagging Oneder problems.

IT'S OBVIOUS that a certain number of requests must be turned down, and not only because basketball season and disc jockeys must rest sometime.

Few games, for instance, are played in San Francisco (most are played on the Peninsula and in the East Bay), because most S.F. high school gyms are too small. Games in Marin County are rare simply because the KYA signal isn't powerful enough to carry that far. But Holiday will still get requests from schools outside the signal who have heard of the Oneders and the wonders they can perform for sagging student body treasuries.

"Much as we'd like to think we could draw in areas where we're not heard," says Holliday, "we know it's impractical, so we tell such schools that they wouldn't be able to make expenses." (The Oneders, who in their maiden season played gratis, now charge $240 a game.)

And, of course, there are always the schools who have already played the Oneders and want them back for more quick cash. Except on rare and exceptional occasions, Holiday must refuse them because of the constant demand from new schools.

Another large Oneder public relations problem is faculties with something to prove.

"Some of these faculties really load up," says Holliday. "One of them, unknown to us — until the game started — once brought in an entire industrial league team. A faculty in Cleveland brought in Jerry Lucas!"

Such incidents have caused Holliday to insist on a contract guaranteeing that only faculty members play.

Many schools have claimed they've "loaded up" in self-defense, because the Oneders themselves have brought in ringers.

DELBON, the Terra Nova basketball coach who averages 31 points a game, was All-Northern California for Jefferson and won a basketball scholarship to the University of Oregon, where he played varsity for three years. Novitsky, who coaches baseball and basketball at Arroyo High, was All-City at Poly and played four years at USF. Even rusty, getting in shape and having fun, Barry is Barry.

But, as Holliday explains, disc jockeys aren't traditionally or historically built to withstand the torture of 80-game schedules, and there is a high attrition rate among his brethren, ranging through weight problems, injuries, the draft, oversleeping and chickening out.

As a consequence, Holliday must fill in. And, as he says, if you've got to fill, you might as well do it with guys like Novitzy ("Schoolteachers know how to handle high school crowds and other teachers."), Delbon (who not only has the right temperament but can "shoot like hell"), and Barry.

Having the right temperament, being able to maintain that delicate balance of dignified clowning, is as integral a part of being a Oneder as having a good speaking voice or being able to shoot like hell. Which is why Holliday includes in their road show of wives, volunteer pompon girls and their own PA man, their own officials.

"We feel our function," explains Holliday, "is to provide a night's different kind of entertainment. The Oneders and faculties should try to win, but not at the expense of hard feelings. People who want deadly serious games have other outlets. If the opposition is willing, we often get together before games and arrange silly stunts."

WITH THEIR OWN officials, the Oneders have some control of what is essentially show business rather than a small war.

Like a good boxer, the Oneders have learned to roll with the punches, adjust to the opposition's style. If they want to be funny, Holliday has the talent in such stars as Ed Hider, who's built like Anna Magnani and scores as often as Alexei Kosygin attends Mass. (A couple of years ago a wise-guy PA man introduced him as the only man who ever had his draft card burned by the Selective Service.) If, on the other hand, the opposition wants to play it straight, then Barry, Holliday, Delbon and Novitzky unleash themselves.

Holliday says that while the San Francisco-based DJ team is the winningest he's ever organized, they've all been equally rewarding. A scrapbook full of newspaper clippings and letters tells of newly healthy student body treasuries and spirits, special benefit games, and even a principal's commendation thanking the Oneders for unifying a dissident faculty when all else had failed.

"Really," says Holliday, "everybody wins. We love to play, it's exposure for the DJ's, and the schools would have a hard time finding an easier way to pull in money."

The KYA Oneders may indeed be the phenomenon of the ages — a promotional gimick with a halo.

Wild Finishes

Westmoor, HMB, El Camino Win

The North Peninsula League basketball teams may never be remembered as the personification of cage brillance but what they lack in over-all beauty and grace on the courts they more than make up for in fan-pleasing and coach-aging thrills.

Three such games were played last week with second-place Westmoor taking one of the wildest games ever seen from Jefferson, 59-58, while El Camino, proving it will be a team to contend with in the second half, dumped Oceana, 65-58, and Half Moon Bay winning its first-ever league basketball game by beating Terra Nova, 66-62.

The Westmoor victory left Tony Giamonna's Rams with a 7-1 record while the loss dropped Jeff out of any title contention. The Indians are now 5-3. League-leading South San Francisco High School was idle.

The last 10 seconds of the Westmoor-Indian game had to be seen to be believed. Up until that time it appeared certain that the Indians, who had led by as many as 17 points in the third quarter, would pull themselves into a tie for second place. With Jefferson's Eddie Smith controlling the boards in the first half and Tony Schrock soaring literally out of the gymnasium with his feather-jumpers Jeff appeared to be in a laugher against the suprisingly sluggish and cold-shooting Rams.

So bad was the Ram attack that it netted just two field goals in the first eight minutes and by the time halftime came they were down by 15 points at 41-26. The way the third period started out it appered the Rams would never get going. After a brief six-point splurge by Westmoor, the Indians retook command and upped their lead to 17 points, once briefly to 18, with just four minutes left in the third period.

But then the Ram press began to get the Indians jittery and with Gary Soules and Grady Proctor beginning to find the range on short jumpers. Closing the gap to 52-48 with six minutes left, the Rams apparently had made their last gasp when Jeff got two quick layins from Tom Sellers to pull ahead, 56-48. But a seven-point splurge by Soules in the final three minutes pulled the Rams finally even at 58-all.

After a bad Jefferson pass which guard Narvis Thompson snagged for the Rams at midcourt, the Westmoor five stalled out the final two minutes by working their patented offense for one shot. With 10 seconds left Proctor drove the lane but his shot rolled out. He followed with a tip that missed. Joe Anibale followed with another tip, also a failure, as did Thompson.

But the officials called Sellers for the fourth play-off spot in gave Proctor two shots. He sank the first for 59-58. Just as he was shooting the second shot, however, one official called a technical on the Rams for not having enough men on the free-throw line. There followed a 10-plus minute argument between Giamonna and the officials but the technical was upheld. Giamonna protested the game on the grounds he didn't have to have any players on the lane if he wanted to protect his backcourt.

Jefferson guard Lou Matteucci missed the technical shot and the Indians, after getting the ball at midcourt, couldn't get off a shot before the buzzer.

"This had to be the most exciting game we've had since I've been coaching," said Giamonna. "It was even better than last year's comeback against S.S.F. The boys never quit. Although the protest won't go through because we won I still believe I was right in dropping back four players and leaving Proctor alone at the line."

For the first time in five years Westmoor played a man-to-man defense in the second half against the Indians. Usually it would take something close to a Divine Commandment to pull Giamonna's crew out of their zone.

"I felt Jeff would try and stall after intermission so I hoped to press them further with a man-to-man," Giamonna added. "I think it worked pretty well."

With Frank Anderson scoring 20 points and holding Oceana's Tim Sershan to his lowest output of the season, eight points, the El Camino Colts racked up their third win of a so far unlucky season.

"We keyed on Sershan from the start and figured that by stopping him we would have an excellent chance of winning," Warren Hagberg said. "We finally are beginning to play as a team and although it is too late for any title hopes I know we can cause more than one headache the rest of the way."

Guard Steve Jones, still weakened by the flu, got 10 points for the winners while forward Bill Godkin continued his hot shooting with 19 points. Jim McCaughey was high for Oceana with 13.

The Colts never trailed in the game although Rick Warne's Sharks were within four at halftime and closed that gap to one at the end of three periods. Center Charlie Nelson and guard Mike Morganti took care of most of the Shark shooting with McCaughey as the tight defense of the Colts Clamped down on the Sershan Twins.

Center Tom Pacheco scored 23 points and grabbed 16 rebounds as HMB made the third time a charm against the Terra Nova Tigers. Twice before, once in the NPL Tournament and once during the league, the Cougars started quickly and built up substantial leads against the Tigers only to lose poise in the waning moments and blow the game.

But last week was a different story as Chuck Short's charges put through crucial free throws in the final minutes of play to parlay a 15-point intermission bulge to a four-point victory.

Gene Mullins' charity tosses, five in the closing moments, iced the first league win for the Cougars.

Once again guard George Martinez led the Tigers, this time with 20 points, as the diminutive backcourt ace aims for the league scoring lead. He is averaging 19.8 points per game in eight encounters.

Byers Boys' Club Free Throw Champ

Jesse Byers, 13, led the South San Francisco Boys' Club freethrow team to victory in a Northern California Boys' Club tournament.

Fifteen boys' clubs with teams of 12 boys each in four age groups took turns at the basket, with eight teams shooting in South San Francisco and seven at the Pittsburgh Club.

The South San Francisco 12 had a combined team score of 463. San Mateo Boys' Club placed second with 419 baskets, while San Leandro Boys' Club took third with 410 baskets.

Byers hit 57 baskets out of 60 as the leading shooter of the 180 boys in the tournament. Midget boys took 30 shots each while the juniors, intermediates, and senior boys took 60 shots.

RANGE FIGHT

One of the most famous of western range fights, the Johnson County War of 1892, occurred south of Buffalo, Wyo.

Judge's Wife Is Injured

Three persons were injured, including the wife of Northern Judicial District Judge Charles Becker, in a two-car crash in Daly City Thursday.

Norina Becker was admitted to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of lacerations and bruises and observation, following the accident at the intersection of First and Castle streets shortly before noon.

The driver of the other car, Vicki Petterson, 18, a San Francisco housewife, and a passenger, Spencer Ramirez, of 39 Price Street, Daly City, were also treated at Mary's Help Hospital for minor injuries suffered in the collision.

Bandit At D.C. Market

A man armed with a snub-nosed revolver held up the Cala Foods market at 1 Hillside Boulevard, Daly City, Wednesday and fled with an estimated $150.

Police said the gunman, described as a Negro male in his late twenties, entered the store shortly before 10 p.m. and ordered the night clerk to give him the money in a checkout stand cash register.

Alioto Re-states 'Tough Stand' On Commuter Tax

By FRANK LaPIERRE

San Francisco Mayor Joseph (Joe) Alioto says more in 15 minutes than most politicians say in their political lifetimes.

In an exclusive interview last week the mayor sat behind his prized Chinese Chippendale desk and met all questions directed at him headon.

He reiterated his tough stand on imposing a tax on "commuters," explained his point of view on the future role of International Airport, and; outlined plans for combating the city's two worst enemies — low cost housing and joblessness.

In addition, the mayor said there were three "smaller items I'm going to get out of the way as quickly as I can."

These included construction of a swimming pool at Hunter's Point, a restaurant in Golden Gate Park and conversion of "those ugly vacant lots around town" into mini-parks.

On the subject of the unpopular "commuter tax," which has raised the ire of many Peninsula officials, Mayor Alioto said "I have stared at the cold hard facts and they speak to me.

"The facts are: San Francisco has a $3 billion payroll and 50 per cent of that figure goes out of the city into the surrounding areas with 122,000 commuters who daily come into and leave our city," Alioto said.

He vowed his offices would not abandon the proposed tax, which would be levied on all wages earned in the city at the rate of one-half of one per cent (some $25 per $5,000 salary).

And he suggested other cities in the Bay Area follow suit and impose similar taxes on earnings.

"I'm certainly not blinded to possible reciprocal benefits in this matter, however expenditures out-weigh any benefits in this case. I further realize there has been a public hue and cry raised against this tax as far as the suburbs are concerned, but many in the business community agree something must be done," Alioto said.

Imposition of such a tax is vital to the future of San Francisco, the mayor explained.

What Mayor Alioto and many business leaders feel is that the city provides these commuters with services, including police, fire and hospitalization. In return they take their earnings elsewhere to spend, thus placing the financial burden directly on residents of San Francisco.

The future of International Airport is likewise clear to Mayor Alioto, who has been in office one month and is already nationally known political figure.

"All Bay Area airports should be placed under a single regional district, along with bridges," Alioto says.

The mayor feels the time is "not too far off" when the airport will reach maximum capacity (estimated at 25 million passengers) and a regional agency similar to BART is the only effective method of developing such facilities around the Bay.

"The problems affecting the airport are of a regional nature, I feel, and should be dealt with as such," he said.

Asked what the greatest problem facing the city is at present, Mayor Alioto replied "The problem is two-fold."

"Low cost housing and jobs are the biggest challenge I am faced with at the present time," he said.

During a 35-minute meeting with President Johnson last week, Mayor Alioto discussed the problem of low-cost housing and was assured "San Francisco would get its share" of units to be built under a ten-year plan.

The program will eventually see some six million low cost housing units constructed throughout the nation, the mayor was told.

"I told the President we wanted our share of the six million units. And I've talked to other mayors in several major cities (Baltimore, New York, Chicago and L.A.) and discussed these same problems with them," Alioto revealed.

In the past, redevelopment in blighted areas has been handled, for the most part, rather poorly, in Mayor Alioto's opinion.

He cited the Western Addition as an example.

"They tear down low-income homes and put up luxury apartments. We must get away from this policy. I'm attempting to attract private business to invest in low-cost housing development and I think I'm succeeding in this venture," the mayor said.

As an incentive for such a venture, the mayor proposes giving developers a tax write-off similar to the five-year programs instituted during the early 1940s.

What most observers feel is the energetic mayor will "burn out" before his term of office expires in four years.

"Time will tell — but I doubt if anything can slow him down," an aid commented.

S.S.F. Man Is Injured

Jesus Sanchez Nuno, 42, 157 Ramona Drive, South San Francisco, is reported in "serious" condition with injuries received Friday night in a fist fight outside a Grand Avenue tavern.

Hospital aides comment that the "serious" rating indicates a slight improvement over Nuno's previous "critical" condition. He still is being treated at the intensive care unit, however.

Nuno suffered "severe head injuries" during a fight with Leonard V. Villagas, 942 Mission Road, according to police.

Poverty War To be Probed In SM County

The War on Poverty in San Mateo County, its accomplishments and aims, will be discussed at a meeting of the League of Women Voters Thursday morning, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. The public is invited to this meeting which will be held at Beresford Recreation Center, 28th and Alameda de Las Pulgas, San Mateo.

Administrators of four programs will explain local use of poverty funds. Speakers include Mrs. Velma McCrary, director, Community Service Center, Gus Guichard, Intergroup Education Consultant, San Mateo City Elementary School District, George Riley, director, Human Resources Commission, and Simon Rosenthal, director, Legal Aid Society of San Mateo County. Mrs. Kenneth Kaplan will serve as moderator.

The league is preparing a survey of the local Office of Economic Opportunity programs under the direction of Mrs. Alvin Levitt, chairman of the Development of Human Resources study. The results will soon be available in pamphlet form.

As a follow-up to the general meeting, units will discuss and evaluate the programs the week of February 27 to 29.

On Tuesday, February 27, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., Mrs. Thomas Caldwell, 2 Fairoaks Court, San Mateo, will hostess. Those wishing babysitting should call Mrs. Alvin Levitt, 345-5903. Wednesday, those in the Belmont San Carlos area meet in the San Carlos Baptist Church, Olive and Walnut Streets, San Carlos, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. In the Hillsborough-San Mateo area, Mrs. Carl Grove, 350 Fairfax, San Mateo, will hostess. Those wishing sitting service should call unit chairman Mrs. Daniel Collins. Mrs. William Blair, 2813 Mariposa Drive, Burlingame, is hostess for the Burlingame-Millbrae unit. Call Mrs. Rudolph Reich if you need sitting.

MARINE CPL. Russell P. Smith, of San Mateo, has returned to Vietnam after a leave in San Mateo. He has served 11 months there and extended his tour for six more with the First Medical Bn., First Marine Division at Da Nang.

Tax Study Group Backs CSM Bonds

The Governmental Research Council of San Mateo County, regarded as the "tax watchdog" organization of public governmental bodies, today endorsed the San Mateo Junior College district bond-tax proposals scheduled for vote on Tuesday, March 26.

The endorsement came following a thorough study of the financial structure of the college district, its operating policies and the quality of education provided for the first two years of college. The GRC recommends a "yes" vote on both proposals on the ballot.

The College of San Mateo presently has more than 9,000 day students and 12,000 night students in attendance; Canada College in Redwood City is scheduled to open this fall to accommodate 2,000 students and Skyline College in San Bruno, presently under construction, is scheduled for completion and opening in the fall of 1969. It will also have facilities for 2,000 students.

The endorsement, one of the strongest received by the Citizens' College Crisis Committee, of which Daniel E. Koshland is chairman, states that "the assumptions regarding increased enrollment, which necessitate increased expenditures at all three campuses are reasonable and valid and the increased staffing and maintenance costs are based on sound business analysis. . . ."

S.C. Agent In Council Again

Two San Francisco area representatives were honored by the Home Life Insurance Company of New York for their achievements during 1967. They were: J. Richard Arellano, CLU, 136 Chesham Avenue, San Carlos, and Peter R. Butler CLU, Piedmont.

In a ceremony held at the company's San Francisco-Grayson agency, Arellano and Butler were named members of the "President's Council," the company's highest honor group. They were presented with engraved silver President's plaques by Manager Ellison C. Grayson, CLU and will meet in April at the San Marcos Hotel in Chandler, Arizona, with other qualifiers from Home Life's national field organization.

Arellano, a chartered life underwriter, joined Home Life in 1958. He has qualified for the President's Council for the past three years and again qualified for the life insurance industry's elite Million Dollar Round Table. A two-time qualifier for the National Sales Achievement Award, Arellano is a seven time winner of the National Quality Award for dedicated service to clients.

Strep Tops Sickness List

San Mateo reported the highest incidence with 70 cases.

The month's morbidity report issued by the county health department also showed 99 cases of gonorrhea, an increase of ten over the same month last year; 23 cases of syphillis, down from last year's 31.

Contagious diseases also included four cases of measles, 12 of German Measles, 76 cases of mumps, 24 cases of infectious hepatitis.

To Try 2nd Time For Interchange

Redwood City Manager Howard Ulrich said Monday that he will go to Riverside Thursday to again appear before the State Highway Commission and request funds for improvement of the Ralston Avenue interchange opposite Marine World.

The city manager said he is hopeful that the commission will be more receptive to the city's request than it was last month in Ventura.

Redwood City is asking the state for a $330,000 appropriation from contingency reserves for construction of two diagonal off-on ramps on the east side of Bayshore Freeway, two cloverleafs on the west side and two connections with the frontage road from the eastside ramps.

The city, along with Leslie Properties, developer of Redwood Shores, plans to construct 1100 feet of roadway across state right-of-way between the interchange and the Ralston Parkway near Marine World at a cost of $100,000. In addition, Leslie is constructing a $160,000 boxed storm drain system across the state right-of-way.

Since the turndown at the Ventura meeting, Ullrich has met with State Division of Highway officials and with Vernon Christina, chairman of the Highway Commission concerning the interchange, which the city wants to get improved in order to ease an expected gigantic traffic jam when Marine World opens July 4.

After reviewing funding and aspects of the problem area, Christina advised him that the commission will reappraise the matter at its Thursday meeting, Ullrich said.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed.
A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums.
Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech, and the ability to chew foods and to help prevent other dental diseases.
Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth. Dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

'The Shadow' Talks

THE SHADOW KNOWS — About that long-distance phone call from Los Angeles to Daly City clerk Anna Ohlendorf requesting permission to withdraw from the upcoming April 9 City Treasurer's race. The caller was candidate Angerbauer who cited health reasons for wanting to quit the campaign against incumbent Joe Lewkowitz. He filed only last month for the $400 per month office.

RUMORS CIRCULATING that either attorney Robert Hunter or localite Jim Grealish will handle the Daly City council campaign for McRobert Stewart. Likewise rumors rumbling around town that Planning Commissioner Stewart will resign his appointed post to run. Smiles are the only answers to the queries.

LATEST ALCOHOLIC MIXES clogging local bloodstreams are the Karate Punch, Sumo Flip and Samurai Grog. Tell your local beertender to check with what's left of this columnist or Westlake's PR man Gene Perry (who's never lost a bout yet) for the IN" pub. Caution: Only Far Eastern veterans will be served. Does that give you a hint?

CONGRATULATIONS DEPT. — It's always a pleasure to congratulate someone who reaches the 90 mark in life. And with a noticeable amount of envy we turn the spotlight on Mrs. Faustina Conci, mother of D.C. city parksman August (Augie) Conci, who will celebrate her 90th birthday at Westlake Joe's this Sunday evening. Augie likes to tell how his mom used to serve John Marchbanks wine and salami when he visited her home on occasion.

People just "ain't like that no more," according to Augie. When his mother, who raised three sons (Augie, 60, Emilio, 57 and Peter, 47) and a daughter (Diva Angelot), came to this country 70 years ago from Lucca, Italy, Daly City was mostly sand dunes and scrub pine. She has seen this city grow substantially since then. "She's still sharp as a Gillette," Augie brags.

IT WAS ON A NOTE OF SADNESS that the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce learned that Jack Kendree and Joe Rohl finally found a site for a signboard for the city's many civic organizations. At least there wasn't a dry eye in the house as sign committee chairman Kendree gave his report and recommended another committee be appointed to study design of the board at last week's Directors' meet. Both men had been valiantly searching for a spot for the past seven years. Many members had wagered the search would go on for at least another decade. However, since Rohl's retirement last year the pair have carried on an intensive hunt for a likely site.

DALY CITY MAYOR Bernard (Bud) Lycett will once again be guest speaker at the annual installation dinner of the Hillside Homeowners Association at Fort Scott (The Presidio of S.F.) One member remarked following last year's event that a disaster was averted when Hizzoner refused to sing. Not that he has a bad voice, but our city hall source claims the mayor only knows one Irish song — and he has sung it over and over and . . . Only kidding Mister Mayor

AND WHILE THERE HAS BEEN some comment from several persons on construction of an aerial rapid transit station in D.C., we wonder if this is the general feeling of the people. Would most residents prefer BARTD NOT to come into the city, rather than construct an aerial station, or is this the opinion of a vociferous few?? Let us know and we'll let the right people know (whomever they may be).

PARDON MY ELBOWS — Nuts to that annual Chinese New Year's parade. We've never been elbowed, shoved, punched or shell shocked that much since our Good Old Army days. Never again! And why do they have it at night? The floats aren't THAT bad!

THAT HOSPITAL SIGN in Daly City (as you turn off the Junipera Serra Freeway at Eastmoor) is STILL pointing the wrong way. What will it take to get the State Highway Department to install it in the right location, an unnecessary death when a person driving to the hospital at night or in the fog turns the wrong way and loses precious minutes — or never gets there?

POLICE OFFICER Doug McCool demonstrates to Sue Marszalec and Rich Smith one of the correct rifle handling techniques being taught in the South San Francisco Police Athletic League hunter safety course.

Youths Crowd To SSF Gun Course

A new Police Athletic League hunter safety course has been offered to all South San Francisco youngsters between the ages of ten and 17. The response was so overwhelming that when the South San Francisco Police Department opened registration. Over 500 children signed up the first day.

State law requires that any youth under age 18 obtaining a hunting license have in his possession a hunter-safety certificate. This certificate is awarded each youth who has satisfactorly completed the Hunter-Safety course.

This program for the youth of South San Francisco will be taught by uniformed South San Francisco police officers. At present, however, it is being taught by Hal Varni, Al Gordon, Dave Deason and Jack Shalabba, all members of the South San Francisco Rod and Gun Club, who have instructor certificates from the state and who will teach until officers receive their instructor permits from the state.

The program consists of six hours instruction required by the state and divided into three sessions, presently Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m.

The first lesson covers the 10 Commandments of Shooting Safety, when and how to handle a weapon and also literature put out by the State Fish and Game and the National Rifle Association on Safety, Sportsmanship and Shooting for Fun. The second lesson consists of more classroom instruction, demonstrations and movies. The third lesson is a review of material.

After satisfactorily completing all phases they are issued their hunter-safety certificates. Any youth who fails to receive his certificate may be rescheduled and go through the program again.

Officer Doug McCool, chairman of the program, states that to date 35 youths have received their hunter-safety certificates. Presently each class consists of 25 students only, due to class room facilities and instructors awaiting their instructor certificates. Hopefully the class size will be increased later.

Due to the large number of youths signed up it is necessary to instruct the older ages first as they have less time to benefit from this program, reports McCool.

Star at 15

Ed Ames was a star at age 15. His sell-out shows last week at Circle Star Theatre indicate he is still a star. The public may view him as a star, but the personable singer is as humble and cautious about his career as if he were a newcomer.

"I'm not a star of movies, you're an imbecile if you let yourself believe it. I can name friends of mine who made it big in other media and got wiped out in the movies," he said stretched out in a low chair at the Fairmont Hotel.

"As a member of the Ames Bros. act, we sold 20 million records and I was only a kid. We had an excellent act but life became interminable. I was always interested in acting so I quit as a performer and began to study in New York."

He claims he "blew all his savings in lessons" and didn't work during the three-year period when he was reshaping his career. But it paid off handsomely when at his first Broadway audition or "cattle call," as he describes it, he won out over many more experienced actors for the major role of John Proctor in Arthur Miller's "The Crucible."

Now he's as popular an actor as he is a singer. This year he'll concentrate on club and concert engagements to get the money to carry him over if a good movie role comes along that meets his requirements of quality.

MONEY ISN'T A BIG CONSIDERATION WITH ED now. He wants to work with big stars such as Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster, Lee Marvin and George C. Scott. But he must choose his roles carefully because being a star in one media, his image can be spoiled if he fails in another.

"Americans don't allow you to fail. In England Peter O'Toole came home triumphant after 'Lawrence of Arabia' and bombed in 'Hamlet,' on the stage. They said, well it didn't work but it was a good try. Here they label you as a loser right away and it takes a long time to get back in favor."

Ames got good reviews on Broadway opposite Kirk Douglas in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo Nest" and in "Carnival." During this time he was flirting with television in "The Rifleman," "Travels of Jeremy McPheeters" and "Rudigo." When he teamed up with Fess Parker for the three year series "Daniel Boone," it was a new career and new image for the singer.

"NO MORE LONG BRAIDS FOR ME," he smiles, "playing an Indian was fun and we strove for honesty and quality on the series, but I've got to move on."

He almost moved into opera, because of encouragement received from Ames' idol, conductor Leopold Stokowski.

"He came back stage at 'Carnival' and praised my voice, then suggested I study opera. He wanted me to join him in a series of Carnegie Hall concerts but David Merrick wouldn't let me out of my contract and the opportunity slipped by. Now I sing opera for fun."

'Missing Heir' Fraud

The new type "missing-heir" fraud is a variation of the old sucker game in which potential victims were lead to believe that genealogical searches had proven them to be rightful heirs to large estates.

The victim of the new type fraud receives a semi-official looking document reporting that a person with his or her surname has died without heirs or will and the estate, unless claimed, will revert to the state in which the deceased died.

One recipient of such word from San Francisco had the foresight to write to the Probate Clerk and learned the entire estate in question had reverted to the State of California several years before.

The research of Probate Estates with no apparent heirs is, as a rule, confined to people with common names such as Davis, Smith, Brown, Jones, etc. In San Mateo, two O'Briens living in the same apartment building compared notes and found they had received an identical letter from a Providence, R.I., firm, advising that one Mary E. O'Brien had died leaving an estate valued at $20,000 with no known heirs.

POSTAL AUTHORITIES say that 18 such firms, which sell copies of probate court records for certain fees, usually $1.00 a page, are presently under investigation. The firms do no investigating of estates but only sell copies of documents obtained from public records. The mailings identify the decedent, date of death and estate valuation. The Post Office authorities warn that the probate records for sale are of little or no value for establishing a person to be a missing heir.

Also enclosed with the letter is an "Application for Documents" form with an index number which is to be returned with a fee, ranging from $6 to $12. A Philadelphia firm for $6 offered copies of probate records on the $14,000 estate of one George Lincoln Smith. Investigation found that Mr. Smith had died leaving a $14,000 estate but owed a hospital $40,000.

Most of the mailings include a disclaimer to any further investigation which says, "On receipt of said Documents if you believe you are a valid claimant and heir to the estate, it is suggested you contact your attorney as our services terminate with the transmittal to you of said documents."

A CALIFORNIA-BASED research company, in compliance with an agreement with the U.S. Attorney's Office, includes in its "Request for Documents" form the fact that it is not a governmental agency or law firm and that the mailings are sent to persons whose names are obtained from local telephone directories of various cities throughout the United States.

At this writing, an injunction was recently granted by Rhode Island Superior Court preventing "Estate Claims of America, Inc." from advertising to sell copies of probate court records to "missing heirs" for a $12 fee.

Pop Art Relics

Pop art is found in comic strips and on advertising posters. Pop artists turn soup cans and wagon wheels into statues.

Pop art is a gishy girl smiling at the boy who has discovered her secret — tooth paste.

Pop poetry takes rhymes and epigrams and produces verses that appear on greeting cards and sign boards. And the public eats it up.

In the late 1920's, for example, a verse appeared that has become an all-time best seller in the pop field:

"Precious things
Are always few
Guess that's why
There's just one you."

Then there was:
Ove-lay oo-yay
That's pig Latin for I love you
And believe me, Honey,
I sure do."

That one sold greeting cards for years and years. A critic called it a statement of truth.

"Within this vale
Of toil
And sin
Your head grows bald
But not your chin
Burma Shave."

When the Burma-Vita Company announced that it was beginnnig to remove its signs, editorial writers across the nation wept into their typewriters. No more jingles like:

"A peach
Looks good
With lots of fuzz
But man's no peach
And never was Burma Shave."

"Beneath the stove
Lies Elmer Gush
Tickled to death
By his Shaving brush
Burma Shave."

Late in 1967 Ronald Gross brought something new to the Pop poetry field. He took the words from Brillo boxes, labels, tax forms, and the like and cast them into poems with no rhyme and very little rhythm. For example:

Double-Double your fun-fun
Double-Double Mint Mint
Double-Double Mint Mint
Double-Double-Mint Mint
gumgum."

Gross' endeavor is to make us really hear and read what's happening to our language and experience today. Thus he gives us "America Is Names":

"Seattle, Chicago, Kansas City . . .
Elm Street, North Main,
Times Square . . .
Wrigley, Kellogg, Squibb,
Ipana . . .
'Goodrich, Chevrolet, Heinz, Calvert . . .
Names you have always known
. . . believed in . . .
Names of things you've bought and used
Yes, America is names
Good names
Familiar names to inspire confidence."

Sort of grabs you "don't it — or does it?

'Fat Chance'

Anyone who sends an occasional nervous glance toward a waistline showing distressing signs of "middle age bulge" must look with respect upon research into why people become fat.

Experts at Harvard have been conducting such studies and their findings are far from encouraging if less than startling. Some people get fat, evidence seems to show, because their bodies let them down — give them the wrong signals on when to start eating and when to stop.

Others, say the researchers, pay undue attention to external eating cues rather than internal ones. These people find that the taste and texture of food turn them on and as a result they eat before it becomes a matter of sheer survival.

Obese rats under test conditions ate far less than usual when they were fed an unpalatable diet.

Science cannot save all in the rotund classification but it seems clear that a prescription for at least some would be: Eat foods you don't like. It is this group which figures to give science the most understandable lesson in what "fat chance" means.

Editorial

Faulting the Experts

Most writers on the science of selecting a motel for the night propose rules that if followed would take three hours per day. Expert travelers are inclined to take a short cut.

Blinking signs usually tell the motorists a motel has television, air conditioning, swimming pool, etc. The problem is to ascertain at a glance what lies behind all this brilliant facade.

The traveler usually can make some quick appraisals in a hurry. He can note whether there are traffic signals close at hand, whether railroad tracks run back of the place or if a truck stop is across the road.

But can the casual traveler make all the inspections these experts advise? With the rush on, it is unlikely he will take time to note whether cars with local licenses are parked at the restaurant. Local licenses supposedly mean that the food is good.

But the experts would have the motorist inspect everything from worn places in the carpet to the amount of tissue handkerchiefs. Not only would this big inspection be made at one motel but at five or six. Then, and only then — say the experts — a choice can be made.

Well, who has the time? The chances are one will not pick a lemon. When you get stung, which is seldom, it is an adventure.

One restaurant connoisseur who made considerable money rating eating places once advised patrons never to order without inspection of the kitchen. A hungry man was expected to lift the lids on several pots, eye the cook's hands and clothing and poke around in odd corners for dirt.

There was an unsubstantiated report so many prospective customers were assassinated the practice died.

So much for the experts. How far would a traveler get in a day if he spent two or three hours inspecting motels and the same amount of time poking around kitchens?

Mom Will Bake Cookies When Trying to Please Kids

Cookies and more cookies — that's what Mom bakes when she wants to please the kids.

While you're pleasing the youngsters, cater to your sense of thrift by using up that mincemeat leftover from the holidays. Let it top peanut butter cookies.

But do drain the mincemeat before you use it. Mincemeat — the ready - to-use kind that comes in jars — usually has a fair amount of liquid so it's best to turn it into a strainer and let it drip, stirring a few times to help along the draining. Even with the mincemeat drained, these cookies soften a bit after overnight storage in a tightly covered tin box.

PEANUT BUTTER MINCEMEAT COOKIES

- 1¼ cups unsifted regular flour. Stir to aerate before measuring.
- ½ teaspoon baking soda regular
- ½ cup margarine
- ⅔ cup smooth-style peanut butter
- ⅓ cup granulated sugar
- ⅓ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1 large egg
- ½ cup about-drained mince meat

On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour and baking soda.

In a medium mixing bowl, cream the margarine, peanut butter, granulated sugar and brown sugar; beat in the egg. With a wooden spoon, work in the flour mixture.

Using 1 level tablesoon for each, shape into balls; place a few inches apart on buttered cookie sheets. With your fingers pat down each ball to make a wide shallow hollow — don't worry if edges crack. Put a generous ½ teaspoon of mincemeat in each hollow.

With a wide spatula remove to wire racks to cool.

Cookies have a "sandy" texture; they will be crispest when first baked. Stored overnight in a tightly covered tin box, they soften slightly.

ABOUT TIME

Portugal discovered Mauritius, Holland named it and France gave it the official language. India, China and Africa nations populated the island in the Indian Ocean and Britain rules it. Now Mauritians want to rule themselves.

MISNAMED

"Eskimo" is a misnomer, the National Geographic says. Though the northlanders prefer cooked meat, they bear an Indian name meaning "eater of raw flesh."

GOLD TISSUES

Interesting Recipe For Chestnut Soup

Recently a friend of ours, leafing through some regional French cookbooks published in France, found an interesting recipe for chestnut soup which she adapted for use in this country.

This adaptation calls for canned unsweetened chestnut puree — available in some food markets and in the food sections of department stores that carry an array of products.

When we tried the recipe, we found the soup had a subtle chestnut flavor, on the thin side. These qualities make it suitable as a first course for a company dinner.

FRENCH CHESTNUT SOUP

- 1 can (15¾ ounces) unsweetened chestnut (puree puree de marrons)
- 2 cans, each 10½ ounces, condensed chicken broth, undiluted
- ½ cup water
- 1 bay leaf
- ½ teaspoon celery salt
- 1 cup heavy dream

Into a medium saucepan, turn the chestnut puree. Gradually whisk in the undiluted chicken broth and the water. Add the bay leaf and celery salt. Bring slowly to a boil, stirring a few times. Stir in the cream, reheat but do not boil. Remove bay leaf. Makes 6 to 8 servings. Garnish, if you like, with puffs of whipped cream sprinkled with crumbled chestnuts drained of any syrup.

SWEETENED CHESTNUT PUREE

Chestnut soup uses the unsweetened chestnut puree. But what about the sweetened puree called creme de marrons? Here are several suggestions for its use:

Mound scoops of vanilla ice cream and lemon sherbet in a shallow serving bowl. Surround with cooked pear halves home-poached or canned; fill the pear cavities with creme de marrons. Serve with hot chocolate sauce.

Make or buy some semisweet chocolate cups. Add a little creme de marrons to each and top with whipped cream and a suspicion of freshly grated nutmeg.

Sugartop Muffins That Kids'll Like

Apple Wedges Sugartop Muffins
Milk or Cocoa

Sugartop Muffins

- 1 package active dry yeast
- ¼ cup warm water
- ½ cup milk
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, at room temperature
- 1 2-3 cups (about) unsifted regular flour
- 1 egg
- Sugar Topping

In a medium bowl dissolve the yeast in the water. In a 1-quart saucepan scald the milk; off heat, add the sugar, salt and butter; stir until butter melts; cool to lukewarm; add 1 cup flour; beat well. Stir into yeast mixture; add the egg; beat well. Stir in enough of the remaining flour to make a thick batter; beat thoroughly until smooth. Cover and let rise in a warm draftfree place until doubled—about 1 hour; stir down. Divide Sugar Topping among 18 muffinpan cups (1-3 cup capacity). Drop batter into the cups; let rise as previously until doubled—about 30 minutes. Bake in a 375-degree oven for 20 minutes. SUGAR TOPPING: In a small bowl stir together ¾ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 1-3 cup finely chopped walnuts; stir in 1-3 cup melted butter and 3 tablespoons water.

Franks And Kraut Are Substantial

Franks and Kraut
Potato Puffs Green Beans
Pear Turnovers Beverage

Frank and Kraut

- 1 ½ tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut, drained
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 tart medium apple, pared and thinly sliced
- 8 frankfurters

In a 10-inch skillet over low heat, melt the butter; add onion and cook, stirring occasionally, until lightly browned—about 10 minutes. Mix in the kraut and sugar. Place franks on top of kraut mixture; cover tightly and simmer about 10 minutes; turn franks and continue simmering until franks are very hot—about 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings. (If low heat is used along with a dome-type cover on the skillet, there should be enough liquid in the kraut and apple mixture to prevent scorching and to provide steam for heating the franks.)

New Version Of Miniature Pecan Cakes

Miniature Pecan Bourbon Cakes
Beverage

MINIATURE PECAN BOURBON CAKES

1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup (¼ pound) butter
1 cup sugar
3 large eggs
½ cup (80-proof) bourbon
1 cup golden raisins, chopped fine
1-3 cup finely-chopped candied orange rind
2 cups pecan halves, coarsely cut

On wax paper sift together the flour, baking powder and nutmeg. In a large mixing bowl cream the butter and sugar; thoroughly beat in the eggs, one at a time. Beat in sifted flour mixture alternately with bourbon, keeping batter smooth. Stir in raisins, orange rind and pecans.

Turn about ¾ cup batter into each of 8 well-greased individual loaf pans, 1 cup capacity, 4½ by 2½ by 1½ inches. Bake at 350 degrees nutil a cake tester inserted in center comes out free of batter — about 35 minutes. With a small spatula, loosen sides of cakes; turn out on wire rack. If any bit of fruit mixture adheres to bottom of pans, remove with spatula and "plaster" back onto loaves. Cool thoroughly; wrap each cake in plastic wrap and store in a tightly covered tin box. For moist loaves that cut well, sprinkle with extra bourbon, wrap and allow to mellow for a week before using.

First First Lady's Cake Is Updated

Our first First Lady, Martha Washington, collected recipes for Great Cakes — as they were called in her day. These were cakes rich in butter and eggs, enlivened by spice and laden with sweet dried fruits. Nowadays cooks sometimes adapt her rules.

If you are curious to sample the kind of cake popular at Mount Vernon, we suggest you try baking this Raisin-Currant Cake — an updated version of a Martha Washington rule.

One warning: don't expect this to be a fluffy cake. There's not a particle of baking powder or baking soda in it. Its texture is of the pound cake and fruit-cake variety.

RAISIN-CURRANT CAKE

1½ cups currants
1 cup butter
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ cup half and half (commercial mixture of milk and cream)
2½ cups sifted regular flour
5 large eggs
¼ cup dry sherry

Grease the entire inner surface of a two-quart tube pan with butter; sprinkle with flour. Shake the pan back and forth so surface is well coated on bottom and sides; shake out excess flour.

Coarsely chop the raisins. Rinse currants under hot running water; drain; dry on paper toweling.

Have butter room-temperature soft. In a large mixing bowl thoroughly beat together the butter, sugar and vanilla. Add salt, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. Stir in the half and half and ½ cup of the flour.

In a medium mixing bowl with an electric mixer at high speed, beat the eggs until thickened and lemon color. Gradually beat into butter mixture. with mixer, at low speed, alternately beat in the remaining 2 cups flour and the sherry to make a thick smooth batter. Stir in the raisins and currants.

Turn into prepared pan. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until browned, cake tester inserted in center should come out clean—about one hour and 15 minutes. Let cake stand in pan about 15 minutes, then turn out on wire rack; turn right-side up; cool.

Wrap in transparent plastic wrapping and store in a tightly covered tin box. Cake slices well and will keep for several weeks.

Recipe Notes

No leavening such as baking powder or baking soda is called for in this recipe. The beaten eggs act as leavening.

A good size of tube pan to use is one that measures about 9½ by 2½ inches. If you use a deeper, heavy tube pan that is about 9 by 3¾ inches, you will probably have to increase the baking time by five to 10 minutes.

If cake browns too much at very end of baking, gently place a sheet of foil over the top to prevent any raisins or currants that peek out from becoming too brown and dry.

Nowadays raisins are washed and dried before they are packaged so it is not necessary to rinse them before using. Currants are also packed in this sanitary way, but because their crevices are so small, we suggest rinsing them as an extra precaution.

Mocha Souffle Is Flavored, Rich Dessert

Mocha Souffle is a down-to-earth dessert. The ingredients — rich, full-flavored coffee, chocolate, milk, eggs, and such—are basics in the cupboard. And with these explicit instructions you're assured of success — provided you follow every word.

For example, fold means a gentle cutting motion from top to bottom of bowl, and spoon means just that, not pour. You'll turn out a superb souffle, deserving of fragrant, freshly brewed coffee.

MOCHA SOUFFLE

2 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate
½ cup milk
1-3 cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
4 eggs, separated
1-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon almond extract

Butter 1½ quart souffle dish liberally. Coat bottom and sides with a little granulated sugar. Heat coffee and chocolate in double boiler until chocolate is melted. Stir until smooth. Stir milk into flour and salt; stir into chocolate mixture. Cook, stirring, until very thick. Remove from heat; beat until smooth. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Cover; let stand. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; add 1-3 cup sugar gradually, continue beating until stiff. Fold in chocolate mixture and flavorings. Spoon into prepared souffle dish. Bake uncovered at 425 degrees for 22 minutes. Serve at once with plain or whipped cream, if desired.

Sweet Rich Bar Cookie For Kiddies

Sweet Date Nut Bars
Milk (for children)
Tea or Coffee (for adults)

SWEET DATE NUT BARS

¾ cup sifted regular floru
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup corn oil
2 eggs
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 package (8 ounces) pitted dates, finely cut
1 cup chopped walnuts

Into a medium mixing bowl sift the f lour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a well in the center; add oil, eggs and then vanilla. Beat until smooth. Add dates and walnuts; mix well. Turn into a greased 9 by 9 by 2 inch baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. While still warm cut into bars. With a spatula, remove to wire rack to cool. Store in tightly covered tin.

ENTER INTO SERENE ELEGANCE

Through the electrically operated iron gate into a Spanish courtyard effective with the restful sound of water falling from a statue mounted above a crescent shaped pool surrounded with the lush greenery of potted plants. A massive imported handcarved door opens to a large reception hall and through an archway you enter a 19 ft. dining room overlooking a 21x32 sunken living room with floor to ceiling used brick fireplace set in pecan panelling and through a wall of glass is a view of a vast expanse of a quietly rippling lagoon. There are 3 master bedrooms, each with its own tiled bath; one features a delightful dressing room and a sunken Roman tub. A large electric kitchen with lavish use of handcrafted tile adjoins the panelled family room with a used brick firepit or BBQ. This custom designed decorator's home is TRULY AN ADVENTURE IN GOOD TASTE. $54,950.

Snow Camp For Youth Of Westlake

Westlake Baptist Church members who will attend Friday's Northern California Baptist Conference high school snow camp No. 2 will be:

Marian Hillerstrom, Juanita Fogelstrom, Jan Saxon, George Bradley, Bob Swedberg, Troy and Alex Reid, Bob Besser, Paul Donnelly, Jim and David Pollock, and five guests.

Jim McLean, high school Sunday school teacher, will accompany the group, along with another adult.

Sunday, at 9:45 a.m. is Sunday school hour at the Church. There are thirteen age-graded, Bible-centered classes.

There also are two adult classes.

"Th Gaze That Transforms" is the topic chosen by Pastor A. David Donnelly for the 11 a.m. morning worship hour message, another in the series from Paul's second letter to the Corinthian church.

Music will be provided by Bill DeLung, tenor soloist.

The primary church hour is conducted during the adult worship hour by student workers Bill and Donna Anderson, and is geared for boys and girls four through seven years of age.

Three Conference Youth Fellowship groups meet each Sunday at 6:15 p.m. The junior age boys and girls meet in Jet-Cadets; then junior high and senior high meet in their respective CYF groups.

The 7 p.m. service is called the Family Fellowship Gospel Hour at Westside, seeking to keep the entire family in mind.

Congregational singing is directed by Bill DeLung.

Pastor Donnelly will deliver another in the series of messages, "The Work of the Holy Spirit — Conviction."

February 20 at 9:30 a.m., the Women's Bible class will meet at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, 1600 Santa Lucia, San Bruno. Mrs. Barbara DeLung is the teacher.

Februaory 17 at 8 a.m. will be men's prayer fellowship time at the church parsonage, 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno.

Today, at 7:30 p.m., prayer and Bible study hour is to be held at the church parsonage. Pastor Donnelly will lead in a verse-by-verse study of Paul's second letter to the Thessalonian church.

Westside Baptist Church holds its Sunday services in the San Andreas School auditorium, Inverness Drive and Hickey Boulevard, Pacifica.

Our Redeemer Church Names 1968 Officers

Four newly elected councilmen and eight incumbent officers will be leaders of the Our Redmer's Lutheran Church, South San Francisco.

Newly elected to serve three year terms are Gordon Boblitt, Roger Ericson, Marvin Tarbox and Mrs. Herbert Werner.

Together with Melvin Chirolo, Jerri Steffes, John Howard, Dennis Quade, Mrs. Arthur Watson, Robert Hall, Mrs. Pasquale DeMaio and Edward Gulbrandson, they make up the 12 member council who assist Pastor Irvin Tweet in directing the congregation's activities.

Chairman of the Council is Robert Hall; Jerrie Beffes, vice chairman; Mrs. Herbert Werner, secretary, and Mrs. Pasquale DeMaio, treasurer.

Melvin Chirolo, chairman of the education committee, announced his committee will be Mrs. Narvin Cave, George Petersen, Michael McAvoy, Mrs. Charles Hansen, Heith Harper, Mrs. Eva Chirolo, and Mrs. Arthur Watson.

The education committte supervises the 300 student Sunday School, also directs the summer Bible School and the 48 student Confirmation school taught by Pastor Tweet.

Hospital Chaplain Guest Wesley Church Speaker

Peninsula Hospital Chaplain Walter Johnson will be guest speaker for the 11 a.m. worship service, February 18, at Wesley Methodist Church, 1474 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

Chaplain Johnson will speak on "Living in Five Dimensions." His message will be based on the hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

Protestant Chaplain at Peninsula Hospital and Medical Center since 1965, Johnson was recently elected president of the Peninsula Suicide Prevention Center, an agency functioning for the prevention of suicide as well as offering referral and follow-up services.

Chaplain Johnson is a graduate of Sequoia High School, Redwood City, Whitworth College of Spokane, Wash., and San Francisco Theological Seminary.

After three years in parish ministry he continued training for specialized institutional work.

He has served as chaplain for Sequoia Hospital and San Mateo County Jail.

SNORERS

About one out of eight Americans snores, says the American Medical Association.

New Warden At St. Elizabeth's

Jack M. Dowling of 6 Serena Court, South San Francisco, was elected, at the recent annual meeting of the congregation, to serve as Warden of St. Elizabeth's Episcopal Church, 280 Country Club Drive, South San Francisco.

This is the highest elective office in an Episcopal parish or mission church. The warden is the chief lay officer of an elected body called the Bishop's Committtee and under the leadership of the Vicar, Father Saunders, the Committee is responsible for conduct of the business affairs of the parish.

Mrs. Frances Heagney is clerk of the committee and Jerry Robbins is treasurer.

William Blanchard, Lawrence Comer, Dorothea Burgess, Lee Dowling, Ronnie Hill, Jean Johnston, Norman Kenyon, Ernest MacKenzie and Beverly Monkman.

Father Saunders installed the newly elected officers during the celebration of the Holy Mysteries service recently.

Lenten Series In South S.F.. Set for March

A Catholic Lenten series in South San Francisco will begin with a Holy Communion service in an Episcopalian church.

Members of St. Elizabeth's Episcopalian church on Country Club drive have invited parishioners of nearby St. Veronica's Catholic church to witness the first of their weekly evening Lenten services March 6, at 8 p.m.

An explanation of the liturgy by Fr. Ferdinand D. Saunders, vicar, will follow.

The Episcopalians in turn are invited by Rev. Paul Coleman, pastor of St. Veronica's, to a Mass with commentary to be celebrated Tues., March 19, at the church on Alida Way. It, too, will be followed by a coffee hour in the school hall.

Sorority Makes Tray Favors

Members of Xi Xi Zeta of Beta Sigma Phi were busy at their last meeting making valentine tray favors for Skyline Terrace Convalescant Home.

They will be hostess chapter at a sorority council meeting on February 14 at the San Bruno Library.

Along with Nu Sigma they are co-hostessing at a hat party for Psi Epsilon and Eta Gamma Chapters February 15, at the Lake Merced Boat House.

'Chicken' Is Sermon Topic

"TWO CHICKENS THAT ROASTED THE PREACHER" is to be Walter Stram's 11 a.m. message Sunday at the Peninsula Church of Christ (Christian) in San Bruno, Angus Avenue at Masson.

Sunday Bible School classes for all ages start at 9:45 a.m.

On Sunday at 6:30 p.m. Tom Harrington will lead a 30 minute FAMILY SING and musical talent search, followed by adult group study by the pastor, teacher training by Floyd Garrison, youth group by assistant minister Pat Quilliam, and children's group by Helen Garrison.

Thursday at 7:30 p.m., for one hour, Tom Harrington will lead in a youth music talent development, and pastor Stram will lead adults in Bible study.

D.C. Community Chorus Will Sing at P-TA

The Daly City Community Chorus, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department under the direction of Dennis Desjardins and accompanied by Janet Holden, will sing as part of the program for the Founder's Day Meetings of the Bayshore Parent Teacher Association meeting today.

The chorus previously sang for the George Washington School February 7 and the Vista Mar School February 13.

Soloists for the performances will be Frank Benjamin and Dick Neves.

he Chours is taking advantage of these appearances to invite anyone interested in joining the group to attend the 8 p.m. March 7 meeting.

The group performs on a voluntary basis to those requesting their services. Dues are $1 every three months.

Eta Gamma

Eta Gamma members will stage its annual husband-wife social February 17 at Lyle's in South San Francisco. Mrs. Jack Ramos and her social committee are in charge of the event.

The group will meet next on February 20 at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Greg Patchen, 101 Castleton, San Bruno.

Friends of D.C. Library to Meet

The Friends of the Daly City Library have invited the public to attend their special evening meeting at 8 p.m. on Thursday at the library on Southgate Avenue.

Kilpatrick, a graduate of San Francisco State College with A.B. and Master degrees, is an English instructor at San Francisco City College.

Author of over 25 TV shows, he has recently completed a documentary film on boxing which he wrote, produced and directed. He hopes to have this film serialized by CBS next season.

Also to Kilpatricks' crdit are a screenplay for the movie, "Barricade on the Big Black" with Lee Remick and a novel published by Doubleday Company titled, "The Shouting Dies." He has twice won awards for one act plays from the Pasadena Playhouse.

Mrs. Lincoln Walter, president of the Friends, will preside. The group will be celebrating its twelfth anniversary.

Membership in Friends is open and can be arranged with membership chairman, Mrs. Vinton Stratton or Mrs. George Windhurst, treasurer.

$625,000 Gas Tax Refunds

SACRAMENTO — The County of San Mateo will receive more than $625,000 in state gas and motor vehicle tax rebates for the month of December, State Controller Houston Flournoy announced today.

The City of San Mateo will receive $51,277.

Atherton, $5,787; Burlingame, $17,852; Half Moon Bay, $2,432; Millbrae, $14,013; Redwood City, $37,951; Belmont, $15,272.

Also, Colma, $722; Hillsborough, $5,964; Pacifica, $22,208; San Bruno, $24,305; South San Francisco, $30,499; Brisbane, $3,287; Daly City, $42,489; Menlo Park, $19,627; Portola Valley, $3,864; San Carlos, $17,014 and Woodside, $3,280.

Total apportioned cities and counties and the state highway fund for December was $49,052,362. Funds are derived from gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and from other sources including the motor vehicle transportation tax fund.

Two Drivers Are Injured

Two drivers were treated for injuries they received in a rear-end collision in San Bruno Monday.

Taken to Peninsula Hospital following the mishap was 18-year-old Penny Ann Cutrell of 749 Kathryn Avenue, San Mateo.

Treated at the Milagra Medical Center, Pacifica, was Ida Bruce Street, Pacifica, according to San Bruno police.

The authorities said the Madruga vehicle was stopped at a red light at the intersection of San Bruno Avenue and Junipero Serra Boulevard when the brakes of the Cutrell auto apparently failed...

Miss Cutrell told police she saw the traffic light turning to red, but was unable to stop her vehicle when the brakes failed to hold.

Michael J. Rourk, 16, son of Mrs. Ardelle Rourk, 160 Ross Way, San Bruno, sustained a lacerated right elbow. He was also released after emergency care.
